OWNERS OF MILLION ACRES TO PROTEST REJECTION OF WATER BONDS

Governor Johnson and Other Officials to Attend Modesto Meeting.

CONTROLLER'S STAND

Prevents Irrigation Securities Being Credited as Bank Security.

STOCKTON, Oct. 25.—To protest against what is regarded as unwarranted discrimination against the bonds of irrigation districts as sufficient security for bank loans, a meeting of seven irrigation districts representing 1,000,000 acres of land, will be held in Modesto October 27th, at which Governor Hiram Johnson, Controller Nye and State Bank Commissioner Williams will be in attendance.

That Governor Johnson and State Bank Examiner Williams are inclined to take a more liberal view as to the value of the bonds as bank security is the information given out here, but Controller Nye is said to be unchanged in his attitude. The position of the irrigation districts will be explained by F. W. Wurster of this city, who will make an address on the subject, "Blockade of Our Irrigation Bonds by State Servants." J. L. Craig, president of the Real Estate Association in this city, will make an address on "California—Her Duty to the Farmer." Bank Commissioner Williams will address the meeting on "Irrigation District Bonds."

MEXICO ALARMED BY SUCCESS OF ZAPATA'S FORCES

Danger to Capital Causes Attack on Madero in Parliament.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25.—Astounded by the realization that the forces of Zapata had entered the federal district, sacked a town and then stood off a detachment of the federal army, the chamber of deputies demanded today that the acting minister of war and the minister of the interior appear before that body and render full reports regarding the insurrection and measures taken for its suppression.

It was agreed to remain in session until the ministers appeared and that should the head of the war department fail to report before morning to go to his house in public protest.

Every paper in the city published today long accounts of the battle of Milpa Alta, in which the Zapatistas had routed the federals, killing and wounding more than half the soldiers sent against them, and the alarm in the capital was not allayed by statements calculated to minimize the defeat.

SECOND BATTLE REPORTED.

Late in the afternoon came a report subsequently confirmed that another slight encounter between federals and rebels had occurred, this time within two miles of Xochimilco. This news increased the tension in the chamber.

Francisco I. Madero shared the denunciation leveled at the government by excited deputies, and the galleries applauded.

One deputy made complimentary reference to Diaz and his government and again the audience shouted its approval.

Milpa Alta today was in the hands of the government troops. Moving northward through Morelos is General Casro Lopez at the head of a considerable force. Zapatistas are scattered in small bands throughout the surrounding hills.

FIFTY BODIES UNBURIED.

In the Milpa Alta battle, it is estimated seventy-five or eighty were killed, three-fourths of them federals.

Wild rumors of a movement towards the capital are heard, though not given credence by many. One of these rumors tonight was that Zapata had sent the minister of war a demand for the surrender of the city.

Many small towns in the rebels' path have been virtually deserted. News from Morelos, stronghold of the rebels, is that the dash into the federal district has aroused the spirits of the rebels, who have renewed with greater vigor their looting. A number of haciendas and villages have been occupied and dispatches from Cuautla tonight say the occupation of Cletla is imminent.

FOR PEACE ESSAYS.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 25.—To encourage a study of international peace among university students, James Mill, a wealthy Riverside rancher, has offered an annual prize of $100 for the best oration on the subject of peace that is delivered in an intercollegiate oratorical contest between the University of California and Leland Stanford Jr. university. The contest will be held the first week in December every year.

SUPERVISOR GOES TO INSPECT ROADS; BRINGS BACK BRIDE

(Special to the Republican.)

ALTURAS, Cal., Oct. 25.—Supervisor John Dawson of this county, surprised his constituents this morning by bringing home from Plumas county a bride. No one knew he had such intentions. The romance attained a quick fruition, and the wedding occurred Monday at Quincy. Three weeks ago, Dawson and other Modoc county officials, members of the good roads commission, made the automobile tour, boosting for their favorite route through the mountains. They arrived at Nevis, hungry and tired one night and found the only hotel had just been sold to the Great Western Power company and was closed, but its former owner, Mrs. Elizabeth Butterfield, took pity upon the travelers and opened the establishment for their comfort. Her kindly ministrations to the wants of her guests won the heart of Supervisor Dawson and he won her. They will live at Davis Creek.

FIGURES SHOW 1911 SHIPMENTS OF FRUIT GOOD

(Special to the Republican.)

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—A comparative statement issued by the California Fruit Distributors shows that the number of cars sent East this year is but slightly below the number forwarded in 1910, despite the apparent decrease in shipments earlier in the season. The market was not good in the latter days of the peach and plum season, so a big percentage of the fruit went to the canneries.

The total deciduous fruit shipments to date amount to 11,102½ cars, against 11,297 cars for 1910.

In 1910, 2,517½ cars of peaches were shipped, against 2,627 for this season.

In 1910, 1,552½ cars of plums were shipped, against 1,566 for 1911.

These figures do not give a correct idea of the amount of fruit, however, because in 1910 twelve tons constituted a car, and this year the amount is thirteen tons.

Pear shipments are almost done, and the comparative statement shows 1911 in the lead with 2,485, twelve ton cars as against 2,556 cars of the same weight for last year.

Grapes will not be gone until nearly December first, but they now lead the shipments for 1911.

WOMAN PRISONER JOKES PROSECUTOR

Reminds Him That She Had Dunned Him for Board Bill.

ONTAGON, Mich., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Laura Stannard on the witness stand in her own defense late today gave her version of the events leading up to the death on March 25th of her husband, Charles Sumner Stannard, by strychnine poisoning.

On cross examination Mrs. Stannard threw into spectacular confusion the attorney for the prosecution who was questioning her.

Probate Judge Van Slyck in his cross examination asked ~~her if~~ Stannard was not jealous ~~of a boarder~~ named Nelson.

"No more of Nelson than of you, Judge Van Slyck. I never knew he mentioned Nelson's name."

"Didn't he charge you with corresponding with Nelson?"

"I never corresponded with Mr. Nelson," said the prisoner, "but I wrote to him once, a year ago. He never answered. It was the same kind of a letter as the three I sent you without getting any reply. He owed me board money."

"Well, I didn't like to offend Charlie," laughed Judge Van Slyck, uneasily.

On her direct examination Mrs. Stannard denied that she told Dollie Hames she had put powders in Stannard's coffee the day of his death, and said she had put nothing in the coffee and had taken no part in preparing or serving his breakfast.

ASKS FOR LAW TO SAVE CORPORATIONS

Thousands Will Lose Charters Unless Legislature Acts.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—Secretary of State Frank Jordan sent a communication to Governor Johnson today asking the governor to include in the call for the special session of the legislature a provision that will permit the amending of the corporation license law. Jordan has received a ruling from the attorney general that all corporations which do not pay their license tax by November 30th must forfeit their charters. There has been a law permitting delinquent corporations to regain their charters upon payment of delinquencies, but, according to Jordan, the attorney general has ruled that this law applies only to those corporations that have become delinquent in the past, and that it cannot apply to those that may become delinquent in the future. At the present time it appears that 3000 to 4000 corporations will become delinquent in the payment of their corporation licenses.

DAVID CAPLAN THOUGHT TO BE NOW IN SEATTLE

Said to Have Lived for Time at Settlement of Anarchists.

SEARCHING SLUMS

Los Angeles Dynamite Suspect May Be Caught Soon.

TACOMA, Oct. 25—That David Caplan, indicted in Los Angeles on charges connected with the Times dynamiting case, is in hiding in Seattle, concealed by friends, is the belief of detectives. Officers are known to have led a Pierce county deputy sheriff, M. J. Tillman, whose home is at Lake Bay, and who is acquainted with Caplan, through the slums of Seattle today in an effort to find Caplan.

Caplan is known to have friends in Seattle. He is said to have lived for a time on Lake Bay, about thirty miles from Tacoma, in the anarchistic settlement of Home colony. It is the opinion of the detectives that he has been in communication with members of that group and that he has been helped by them.

VENIRE OF 125 IS EXHAUSTED

Squabble in McNamara Trial Due Over Securing More Jurors.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—The last venireman of 125 summoned for jury service in the McNamara murder case was under examination tonight when court adjourned, and the problem of getting more veniremen became immediate.

Essley was the last and his examination probably will be terminated tomorrow morning.

More than any other one cause, objection on the part of talesmen to finding a verdict of guilty on circumstantial evidence in a murder case slowed down progress in getting a jury to try Jas. B. McNamara for causing the death of Chas. J. Haggerty, a machinist killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion a year ago.

Just how to secure more veniremen was a question discussed by opposing counsel tonight. While the defense declined to state its position, it was said that the objection might be raised to taking veniremen from other branches of the Superior Court. The alternative seemed tonight to be the summoning of a new venire, which might take days. This course was considered unlikely.

The day's work with talesmen summed up as follows: F. J. Mullen, real estate dealer, excused because in the opinion of the court doubt existed whether he would be able to give a fair trial; A. Winter, builder and contractor, challenged after he said he had a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Challenge pending; A. H. Dunlap, farmer, believed defendant guilty; challenge allowed; F. J. Foley, real estate dealer, excused by agreement because of ill health; W. L. Coward, truck farmer, previously accepted as to cause by the defense, today challenged by the state after he said he had a fixed opinion that McNamara was not guilty; excused; W. L. Williamson, rancher, excused because of difficulty in hearing; John D. Caldwell, car shop assistant foreman, excused for non-belief in capital punishment; Wallace Gregg, real estate dealer, challenged after he said he believed the defendant guilty and responsible for the death, among others, of A. C. Harvey Elder, Times editor, whom Gregg knew; excused.

FINE DISTINCTIONS.

The court's action in excusing Mullen marked another of the careful distinctions which are coming to be frequent in the trial. While in no way reflecting upon Mullen's honesty in believing that he could give a fair trial, Judge Bordwell ruled that there was doubt in the mind of the court as to whether Mullen would be able to do this, and the benefit of this doubt went to the defendant.

The defense opposed the release of Talesman Coward, who said, when interrogated by Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for McNamara, that he had a fixed belief that the Times was destroyed by a gas explosion, but was willing to convict the defendant if the state showed him guilty beyond reasonable doubt, and further would be willing to accept a demonstration for the state that dynamite caused the explosion.

Judge Boardwell took Coward's examination up and verified his previous statements that his opinion was formed after consulting a friend who knew about the results of dynamite explosions.

This way of getting information is not excepted by the statutes from grounds for challenge, as are newspaper reports, and common rumor, and Coward was let go. The defense took an exception to the ruling.

Attorney Lecompte Davis, for the defense, entered into a discussion with Judge Bordwell over the examination of Talesman Winter, Davis arguing that the judge interrogated Winters so that the talesman would be inclined to think the court wished him to remain on the jury. District Attorney John D. Fredericks said it looked just the other way to the state, and the court continued his questions after a courteous explanation to counsel that his only desire was to get at the talesman's state of mind, and that he appreciated his responsibilities.

ORDERS STARVATION DOCTOR TO RETURN SOME BLOOD MONEY

SEATTLE, Oct. 25—Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, commonly known as the "starvation doctor," must return $973 of the $1570 in cash given her by Miss Dorathea Williamson for the treatment of Miss Williamson and her sister, Claire, whom Mrs. Hazzard is accused of having starved to death at the Hazzard sanitarium at Olalla. This was the order issued today by Judge Lester Still of Kilsap county at the conclusion of the proceedings brought by Miss Williamson to compel an accounting of Mrs. Hazzard's guardianship of Miss Williamson's estate.

"I am of the opinion that Mrs. Hazzard was violating all the known rules of medicine in her treatment of this thin, emaciated girl," said Judge Still. "It looks to me as if this girl and her sister were slowly dying at Olalla—the sister did die there—and that Dr. Hazzard did not have the scientific knowledge she ougth to have had in administering to them.

"I think of this weak, emaciated girl lying upon her back in the woods of Kilsap county, who, according to Dr. Hazzard, showed symptoms of insanity, and then think of the doctor, sitting by her side and telling her tales of that awful gulch close by and suggesting suicide to the mind of the girl. The doctor might not have realized what she was doing, but I believe the story of the girl that she did suggest suicide to her. Such a doctor is a dangerous person to administer to women and children."

ORVILLE WRIGHT ABANDONS TEST OF NEW GLIDER

KILL DEVIL HILL, N. C., Oct. 25—Orville Wright virtually decided today to abandon the experiments he has been making here with a gliding machine in the hope of discovering an automatic method of preserving the equilibrium of heavier-than-air flying machines.

His record-breaking test yesterday, when he remained almost stationary in the air for nearly ten minutes, convinced him that the development of aviation depended almost entirely on a greater knowledge of air currents and greater skill in meeting such conditions.

OFFICERS FLY 138 MILES DOWN THE ATLANTIC COAST

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., Oct. 25.—After a flight in a hydro-aeroplane 138 miles down the coast from Annapolis, Lieutenants Gordon Ellyson and John G. Towers, U. S. N., landed late today at Buckroe Beach, Va., three miles from here. They were suffering from the bitter ~~cold and hurried~~ to shelter.

Lieutenant Ellyson, who is in charge of the naval aeronautic school at Annapolis, and Lieutenant Towers made their descent after having flown from Annapolis, a distance of 145 miles, in the remarkable time of two hours and twenty-seven minutes. The flight was made without stop or mishap.

The aviators expect to make the return trip to Annapolis Friday.

EPISCOPALIANS MEET TO CONSIDER MISSIONS

Bishop Scadding of Oregon Formally Opens Meeting at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—Right Rev. Charles Scadding, D. D., bishop of Oregon, formally opened the five days' session of the annual council of the eighth missionary department of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States with an illustrated lecture on church work at a local theater tonight. Delegates from all over the Pacific Coast and eastern states were present and with friends filled the theater almost to overflowing.

Bishop Scadding's subject was "The Church in America, Its Early Establishment in Virginia, and its Missionary Work From Jamestown to the Pacific Ocean."

Tomorrow the council will enter into the real earnest part of its work with an opening service in St. Paul's church at 9:30 o'clock. Bishop Moreland of Sacramento will make the address of welcome and the sermon will be given by the president of the council, Right Rev. William Ford Nichols, D. D., bishop of California, on "The Department Vision for the Coming Year."

SHIP'S MATE IS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING. JAPANESE MESS BOY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Charles P. Smith, second mate of the American barkentine Makawell, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of Kinaba, a Japanese mess boy, by a verdict of a jury in the United States circuit today.

The crime was committed at sea last April, while the Makaweli was off the coast of Australia. The evidence was purely circumstantial.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 25.—Total city registration for the bond election next month have just been compiled. San Diego has 14,187 registered voters, a gain of over 4000 since the recent state election. Of the entire number 2538 are women who registered last week. A notable fact is that there was virtually no registration of women from the so-called red light district.

SINGLE TAX GIVEN CHANCE BY MOVE OF CITIES LEAGUE

Convention Favors Home Rule for Cities and Counties in Taxation methods

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 25—The League of California Municipalities tonight went on record as favoring local option as regards taxation, and, following the address of Mayor J. Stitt Wilson of Berkeley on this subject, the league adopted a resolution providing for a committee of three to be appointed to propose a constitutional amendment to the next session of the legislature providing home rule to all cities and counties in matters of taxation.

Secretary A. H. Mason introduced the resolution but declared that while not committing himself absolutely to the theory of single taxation, he thought it was high time to do something to improve our obsolete system of taxation.

State Controller Nye followed Secretary Mason. He thought it was lucky that this matter had been taken up at this time. "It will be three years," he said, "before such a amendment can be voted upon, and that will give the people plenty of time to think it over. I do not oppose home rule, but I would like some more time to study the matter."

D. D. Kellogg, assessor of Pasadena, declared the present system of taxation was the "worst ever. It places a premium upon lying about personal taxes that is astounding," he said.

Several other delegates favored the proposition and none opposed it, so it would seem that the Henry George system of taxation was bound to become an issue with the people of California.

COMMISSION FORM

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 25—Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland today made the principal address at the convention of the League of California Municipalities. His topic was the commission form of government, and he was given close attention by the largest audience in the history of the league.

Mayor Mott brought forth many new ideas in the matter of municipal government, worked out or being worked out, he said, in Oakland to the satisfaction of all. One thing he advocated in cities where a commission was in power was the selection of a citizens' council, which would act in an advisory capacity to the commissioners. He believed that this would greatly simplify the task of running the city government, and not only this, but it would in a measure make the citizens themselves responsible directly for their own laws. The size of the advisory council, he thought, should be large, the larger the better, as by this means the views of a greater number of representative men and women could be learned and the commissioners' burdens made just so much easier.

Mayor Mott referred to the manner of city government in Germany, stating that most all of the larger cities were under the commission form, and added that for years these German cities had been pointed to as models in the art of self-government.

Mayor George W. Stone of Santa Cruz, at the conclusion of Mayor Mott's address, said he looked upon "this address as one of the greatest of the convention," and believed the plan was entirely workable in any American city. "We can get this system established," he said, "by doing as Mayor Mott did—go to the people and ask for it. His people believed in him and told him to go ahead. Ours will do the same thing."

HUNT TO OPPOSE WELLS IN ARIZONA

Returns of First State Primary Coming in Very Slowly.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Though counting of the ballots in yesterday's primary is slow all over the territory, returns received late tonight strongly indicate the selection of George W. P. Hunt of Globe, who was chairman of the late constitutional convention, as the Democratic candidate for governor. Hunt will be opposed at the election, December 12th, by Edward W. Wells, of Prescott, the Republican nominee. The count so far shows Hunt to be far over 1,000 in the lead. The remaining precincts to be heard from are mostly small, and it is not thought they can change the result.

For United States senator, the Democratic primary choice seems to have fallen upon Henry F. Ashurst of Prescott, and Eugene S. Ives of Tucson. Mark A. Smith of Tucson is running very close to Ashurst but all indications point to the latter winning by several hundred votes.

The Republican nominees for the Senate are Ralph H. Cameron of Flagstaff, the present Arizona delegate in Congress, and Hoval A. Smith of Bisbee. They had no opposition at the primaries.

For Congress, Carl Hayden of Phoenix is running about 1,000 ahead of his nearest competitor for the Democratic nomination and if the ratio of voting is kept up he cannot be defeated. His opponent on the Republican ticket will be John S. Williams of Tombstone.

The voting for the state officers is so close that in many instances it will require an official count to determine the Democratic nominees. In but one instance, that of superintendent of public instruction, have the Republicans a contest in their state ticket. From returns now in, Claude D. Jones of Phoenix seems a sure winner over Charles F. Filbrook of Bisbee for this office.

A unique feature of the primary is that nearly all candidates for state offices are receiving their own returns far ahead of the count turned in by county officials. For this reason it will be late tomorrow before anything definite will be known as to the successful Democratic state candidates.

BUSINESS MAN KILLED IN PORTLAND WRECK

PORTLAND, Oct. 25.—Thomas McGibbon, a business man of St. John, a suburb of this city, was killed and Charles Moore, shortstop of the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast League, was slightly hurt today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Astoria and Columbia River passenger train at the intersection of the St. Helens road of the Northern Pacific railroad grade in North Portland. The automobile, with Moore in it, was carried a hundred feet on the pilot of the locomotive before Moore was thrown out. The baseball player escaped with hardly a mark to show his experience.

The automobile, which was being driven by McGibbon, was coming down a heavy grade. The railroad tracks are concealed from the road and it was not until the machine was within thirty feet of the tracks that the passenger train was seen. McGibbon tried to put on his emergency brakes but the time was too short, and the engine struck the machine squarely in the side. McGibbon was hurled [illegible] feet to one side and was almost instantly killed. There were no other occupants of the car.

RICE TRIAL BEGUN ON FRAUD CHARGES

The Prosecution Compares Swindling to That of United Wireless.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A jury for the trial of Jacob Herzig, otherwise known as George Graham Rice, and associated in the brokerage firm of Scheftels & Company, was completed in the United States Circuit Court today. Goldthwaite H. Dorr, for the government, outlined the case.

The alleged fraud, he said, extended all over the country and he compared the offense charged with the crime for which officers of the United Wireless Company were sent to prison.

The prosecutor declared that the Scheftels Company took over the business of the Nat C. Goodwin Company when that corporation ceased to exist in 1909, and that the false representations made by the Nat C. Goodwin Company were continued by the Scheftels.

They especially "played up," he said, the Rawhide Coalition mines stock, inherited from the Goodwin company.

PHYSICAL VALUATION OF RAILWAYS WANTED

State Commission Serves Demand for Figures on Fifty Companies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Intending to ascertain the value of the properties of the steam and electric railways within the state, the State Railway commission has issued and is now serving notices directing the railway companies to file with the commission profiles and maps covering their rights of way and their station, yard and terminal grounds. These are to be prepared according to uniform specifications, and must be filed with the commission within ninety days.

In the meantime the railway companies are to file blue prints of their profiles and maps in such form as they now have in their possession. Fifty steam railway and twenty interurban electric railway companies are being served with the notices.

The work of the commission will be under the immediate charge of Chief Engineer R. A. Thompson, who has just arrived from Texas, where he did similar work for the Texas Railway commission. Thompson left yesterday for Oregon and Washington to consult with engineers of those commissions, and will return within a few days to commence active work here.

SEATTLE WILL FIGHT SAN FRANCISCO FOR 1915 TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—Seattle will contend with San Francisco for the honor of entertaining the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress in 1915, officers of the congress announced today.

Representatives of San Francisco several days ago notified the headquarters here that it was after the congress the year of the Panama-Pacific International exposition there. A letter from William Saxe-Jones of Seattle today stated that Seattle would put up a fight to get the congress in 1915.

CHINESE ASSEMBLY ATTACKS MANCHU MINISTER OF RAILWAYS

REVOLT IS SPREADING

Movements of Imperial Leader at Head of Army a Mystery.

PEKING, Oct. 25.—Further defections to the rebels, including Nan Chang, capital of the province of Kiang-Si, and Kwei-Lin, capital of Kwang-Si, have served to increase the tension here of the revolution.

To add to the seriousness of the situation, the Tsu Cheng Yuan, China's first national assembly, today gave to the Manchus what the legations consider an ultimatum. The assembly impeached Sheng Hsuan Huai, president of the ministry of posts and communications, and demanded his dismissal with severe punishment.

A reply is required from the government by tomorrow, failing which the assembly will dissolve and the members return to their respective provinces. From the temper shown, it is believed the assembly will carry out the threats. The only course open to the government is either to sacrifice a man who is considered by foreigners the strongest member of the cabinet or retaining him, declare war on the assembly as well as the vast majority of Chinese.

AGAINST RAILWAY POLICY.

The charges against Sheng Shuan Huai were formulated by the people of Sze Chuen, Hu Peh and Hu Kan. Sheng negotiated the loans for the nationalization of the railways and has been a leading advocate of the anti-provincial policy, which is regarded as largely responsible for the revolution. The inhabitants of these provinces have shown strong opposition to the proposed railway. At the meeting of the assembly today, members urged that they were not against foreign loans, but against the methods employed and the results, which were tantamount to robbing Chinese who had already begun the railways, and selling them out to foreigners.

An opposite view is taken by the legations of the four interested powers, who consider that the loans and the Hu Kwang Railway and currency reform projects would have served the highest interests of China.

Sheng's secretary produced a written statement from his chief, who like the other members of the cabinet, was absent from the meeting of the assembly, but he was shouted down.

MANCHUS INTIMIDATED.

Cries of "decapitate Sheng" sounded above the high pitched indictments. No one attempted to defend the minister. When they assembled to vote even the front row Manchu provinces, evidently intimidated by the radicals, stood up, demanding the noted mandarin's degradation.

General Yin Tchang's silence has given rise to innumerable speculations. The war minister in the field seems to consider it unnecessary to communicate anything but his needs to the presidents of the other governing boards. Only the palace seems to know his intentions. The imperialist commander has not been followed by any foreigners, even the foreign controllers of the railway having withdrawn. Therefore it is impossible to ascertain whether reports regarding the imperial army are true. Some reports say this army, upon which the dynasty's hope depends, is disorganized. The troops have been pushed forward without having been safeguarded in any manner, which would already have meant disaster had the enemy been more capable.

Trains go down to the south laden with soldiers and equipment, but they do not return. The troops set forth without sufficient communication; then quantities of ammunition follow, but no commissarial supplies. There are rumors of mutinies, retreats and desertions.

It is now said that the engine drivers who previously were reported as having been shot for refusing to take trains forward, were really shot because they proceeded, the soldiers not desiring to meet the enemy. The foreign engineer, Boullard, with his staff, will go south tomorrow and endeavor to reorganize traffic for Yin Tchang.

FACING THE REBELS.

Nevertheless, in spite of disorganization, in ability and disaffection, the army has moved steadily forward. A wireless report from Hankow tonight indicates that the imperialist and revolutionary forces are already closely in touch.

Revolutionary sympathizers excuse the lack of initiative on the part of General Li Huan Heng, the rebel commander, by crediting him with a deep laid plan to permit Yin Tchang to enter the Hu Peh pass and then cut him off. Military men credit neither commander with great ability. Undoubtedly the palace is urging the war minister forward because of the dire necessity for a prompt victory. Should he fail to fight, or lose his first serious engagement, there appears no hope of checking the revolt.

READY FOR FLIGHT.

The moral position of the rebels is stronger than that of the imperialists. They could lose a battle without complete defeat, having other cities to rally around. But the defeat of Yin Tchang, in view of the wavering throughout the troops everywhere would leave the dynasty unable to cope with the situation in a single province.

It is commonly reported in Peking that the imperial family is ready for flight. The road to Jehol, 115 miles north, northeast of Peking, is studded with troops.

VALLEY TRACT DISPUTE IS LAID OVER FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Commerce Chamber Names Committee to Draw Up Resolutions.

Firth and Committee Are Again Present; Attack Made on Land.

The controversy which has arisen over the value of land in the Fresno Valley Tract and which has been the principal subject of discussion at three meetings of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was not settled yesterday. After listening to arguments and statements pro and con for almost an hour and a half, it was decided to postpone action for another week. In the meanwhile, a committee comprising John W. Short, J. Q. Anderson and Henry Hawson will draw up a set of resolutions.

A set of resolutions was presented yesterday afternoon in which it was stated that the Chamber of Commerce considered the price for which the land is being sold exorbitant, although some modifications were made from the resolution presented a week ago.

Two further modifications were submitted, one by D. S. Ewing, attorney for Emil Firth, owner of the tract, but no action was taken on any of them.

When the matter first came up for discussion, letters from several landholders in the tract were read in which they said they were satisfied with their purchases. P. E. Cole, formerly a landholder in the district, was present at the meeting and following the reading of the letters he took the floor for a time telling all the bad points about the land. He said that the black alkali was very prevalent in the lower land, although not so much so in the higher land. He also stated that hardpan was close to the surface and said that in many places the plow cut the hardpan. He further asserted that water could be found very close to the surface in many places. Regarding his own land he said he had been unable to make it pay him any profit and was forced to go out elsewhere to make a living.

A telegram was read at the meeting from Mrs. Ella V. Best in Los Angeles, stating that Firth would refund the money paid by her. Mrs Best was the woman who started all the controversy over the property. Firth was present at the meeting when the message to the Chamber of Commerce was read.

Those present with Firth at the meeting were D. J. Woodward, E. E. Manheim, John L. Moore and D. S. Ewing. Firth made a statement at the meeting to the effect that he had acted in good faith throughout and was confident that he could reclaim the land.

The Fresno Building Trades Council was admitted to membership to the Chamber of Commerce.

WATCHES DOG FIGHT; GETS BITE ON HAND

COALINGA, Oct. 25—While watching a dog fight on Main street this morning, Walter Bowen, son of S. H. Bowen, was bitten on the little finger of his right hand by one of the angry canines. Young Bowen was trying to separate the dogs when he received the bite. He ran to a nearby drugstore where he received treatment. No disastrous result is feared if blood poisoning can be prevented.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—Many prominent men today attended the funeral of John R. Walsh, the former Chicago banker, who died eight days after being paroled from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. Former employes of Walsh's banks acted as pall bearers. Public services were held at the family residence followed by private services at Oakwood cemetery. While the funeral was being held, work in all stone quarries at Bedford, Ind., where Walsh had extensive interests, was suspended for ten minutes.

RIDS THE SYSTEM OF SCROFULA

Scrofula is a disease usually manifested in childhood, though some who are victims of the trouble reach manhood or womanhood before there is any manifestation of the trouble; but no matter at what age it shows, the disease germs are in the blood, and until they are removed there cannot be a healthy condition of the body. The ordinary symptoms of Scrofula are swollen glands about the neck, scalp diseases, skin affections, poor physical development, etc. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Scrofula. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and by going down into the circulation and removing the germs and poisons, and enriching the blood by the creation of nutritive corpuscles, S. S. S. makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, made entirely of health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and is perfectly safe for persons of any age, or those in delicate conditions of health. No one need fear to give S. S. S. to a child, following directions, and the health it will bring to frail, delicate children will be a blessing to their parents. If you or your child have Scrofula, write for our book on the blood and ask for any medical advice; no charge for either. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

VALLEY PAVING PEOPLE AGAIN LOSE LARGE CONTRACTS

Outside Companies Invade Field; Get Big Jobs at Bakersfield.

Trust Agreement With Two Firms Shattered By Low Bids Made.

Twice within the past two weeks, outside paving companies have invaded the San Joaquin valley and secured large contracts by under bidding. The invasion of this field by San Francisco and Los Angeles companies, it is believed, has succeeded in breaking up what has popularly been considered a paving trust. Under the trust arrangement, it is said that the San Joaquin valley was awarded to the Worswick and Warren people. The invasion by outside companies has also brought out the fact that an asphalt war is on in full force.

The latest contract to be wrested from the San Joaquin Valley people was a $155,000 contract in Bakersfield. The Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton company of Los Angeles secured $85,000 worth of the plum. The Federal Construction company of San Francisco secured $35,000 worth of work and the Cotton Brothers company of Oakland secured $29,000 worth of the work.

In addition to this work the San Joaquin Light & Power company will spend about $100,000 in paving the center of the street where the street car tracks are located. This contract was secured by Thompson Bros. of Fresno, representing another Los Angeles firm.

The invasion of these outside companies in Bakersfield and Madera, where two weeks ago other fat contracts were taken from the San Joaquin Valley people, has also extended to Fresno where Thompson Bros. have been awarded a contract for the paving of Fresno street from A to G streets.

Heretofore San Joaquin Valley paving companies have been receiving from 19½ to 21 cents per square foot for work, in Bakersfield. The Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton company agreed to do the work for 15½ cents, or a drop of approximately 25 per cent.

There were six bidders for the Bakersfield street work and the three who did not receive contracts were the Barber Asphalt Co., the Worswick company and the Warren Bros.' company. All these firms are popularly supposed to be in the so-called paving trust.

MINISTER TELLS HOW HE BECAME CHRISTIAN

Rev. Charles Beal Preaches Sermon at Christian Tabernacle.

At the North Side Christian church last night Rev. Charles Laurant Beal preached on the subject, "Why I am a Christian, and How I Became One." He said in part:

I became a citizen of the United States by no act of my own—I was born here. I became a Christian by certain definite steps. My first step was to seek for authority on the subject. I listened to what men said and found that there was a variety of theories. I read what men had written but found that dry and uninteresting. Then I watched men act and came to this conclusion: Men who talked against the Bible and hold up some theory of their own were usually sour, unkind and unsympathetic. Men and women who read the Bible and attended church were as a rule the ones who sat up with the sick, fed the hungry and clothed the orphan. The result was that I began to attend church and Sunday school.

"I listened to the preachers and then read my Bible to see if they were quoting scripture correctly. I continued to watch the people who claimed to be Christians and decided that the Bible was a marvelous book. I became convinced that the Bible was a divine revelation and that I could understand it as well as anybody else. Once I reached this conclusion and the next step was easy. The Bible says that he that comes to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of all that seek him. It would be hard for me to believe anything else. I searched the scriptures for information on the question of eternal life and found that they testified that Jesus was the son of God. Jesus said he that confesses my name before men, I will confess his name before my Father in Heaven. I immediately made a public confession of my faith in Christ as the son of God.

"I found that another step was repentance. With deep sorrow over my sins I turned to the Bible again and read where Paul was in the same condition and a messenger of God said, 'Why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name.' I did as Saul had done, and came forth rejoicing. But right here a man began to tell me that I had to be born again, that my work was not completed. Back I went to my Bible and read the words of Christ to Nicodemus 'Except one be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.' I was sadly puzzled until I read John 6:63 where Jesus said 'It is the spirit that giveth life; the flesh profiteth nothing: The words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life.' That was indeed a revelation to me. Turning on through my Bible I found that Peter told the Christians they were begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God. I naturally concluded that the word of God had been the work of the Spirit begetting in me faith in Christ. When I was baptized I was planted in the likeness of his death and was born into the world a new creature in Christ Jesus. The new birth was then complete and as a babe in Christ I needed the sincere milk of the word that I might grow thereby.

"A good many of the people who seemed anxious to teach me wanted to adulterate the milk of the word. The food they wish to feed my young Christian life was labeled with various names but I insisted on being a Christian only and on reading my own Bible. I have never had to revise either my creed or my Bible. My creed is this: 'I believe that Jesus is the Christ the son of the living God.' My Bible includes all the books from Genesis to Revelation.

J. M. Cartwright and wife of Malaga sang "My Father Knows." There were two accessions. The subject for tonight will be "The Conversion of a Treasurer."

Doesn't it? Then read this:

FARM PARTNERSHIP DISSOLUTION SUIT

O. I. Jones Says A. J. Coll Is Taking All Advantage of an Agreement.

Complaint was filed yesterday afternoon asking for a dissolution of the farming co-partnership between O. I. and Jennie E. Jones and A. J. Coll entered into last December, Jones owning the land since transferred to the wife. They were to share equally, Jones putting in the land valued at $1287 and Coll to live on the premises and furnish implements of the value of $1200. There was an agreement that if sale were made for over $6500 defendant would receive one half, and there was also an option after the expiration of the lease in 10 years to sell a half interest for $3250. Jones charges that Coll lacks $169.75 on the payment of his share in the partnership, has neglected the farm for 133 days running up a partnership loss account, has without leave or credit used a partnership team for his profit, pleasure and gain and has been guilty of misconduct in that on various given dates he created scenes and used vile and objectionable language in the hearing of women and children on the farm.

PRESIDENT OFF FOR WISCONSIN

Rebukes "Barbaric Yells" of University of Minnesota Boys.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 25.—President Taft bade farewell tonight to Minnesota and departed for the real "home of the enemy"—Wisconsin. Before leaving St. Paul, Taft expressed his gratitude for the reception accorded him here and in Minneapolis. His speech here tonight was on the arbitration treaties and was devoid of politics.

The President arrived in St. Paul after a two-hours automobile ride from Minneapolis. He was taken to Minnehaha Falls, to Fort Snelling, to the state soldiers home and to other points of interest on the way.

In addition to his speech of peace here tonight, the President made two important addresses during the day. One was on the subject of the Panama canal at the luncheon of the Young Men's Republican Club of Minneapolis and the other was a lot of homely advice to the students of the University of Minnesota. To the latter the President suggested that the activities of college life might be better devoted to more elevating subjects than "barbaric yells" and he also declared that the young man who started in life without means was far better equipped than the rich man's son with an income sufficient to live upon without working.

FAIRNESS IN SPORT.

The President also made a plea for fairness in sport, whether it be upon the college gridiron or on the professional baseball field. He deplored the action of baseball crowds in attempting to put the visiting team at a disadvantage by insulting remarks and catcalls hurled from grand stands and bleachers.

"I love baseball," exclaimed the President, "but I also love a fair deal."

The President's remark about college yells was called forth by the greetings he received from the Minnesota students under the leadership of "cheer leaders" who jumped in front of Taft and went through various sorts of gyrations.

The President spoke gently of the responsibility of university men and women.

"University men go out into the world without any money, as a rule," said Taft, "and those who have not money usually serve the public best. If there is anything that is a burden; if there is anything that is an obstacle; if there is anything that it is difficult for a young man to overcome, it is an income that will enable him to live without work."

BAD HANDICAP.

"You don't applaud that enthusiastically," he added with a smile. "You would like to try it the other way. But I am giving you the benefit of real experience. You look about after you have been out of college twenty-five years and pick out if you can, a single man that has made a real success and had a great deal to live on when he left college. If you find him, he is entitled to a great deal more credit than you are if you have had to hustle in order to get enough to eat, for he has had to overcome more obstacles and more difficulties than you."

Taft suggested that American universities might well devote a little study to manners. The Anglo Saxon, the northern races, he said, prided themselves on their straight forwardedness, on their telling each other just what they thought, whereas they might learn a great deal from the politeness of the Latin races.

AGED COUPLE SUE CHILDREN FOR $50,000

Charge They Were Defrauded Through Use of Power of Attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25—A suit in which Bartholomew Sheehan and his wife, Mrs. Mary Sheehan, pioneer residents of San Mateo county, accuse their two sons and their daughter of defrauding them of $50,000, their life savings, was brought to trial here today before Judge George E. Church of Fresno, sitting in the Superior Court.

The defendants are Bartholomew Sheehan, Jr., a hotel man of Redwood City; John J. Sheehan, a business man of the same place, and a daughter, May Agnes Sheehan. It is charged by the aged couple that Bartholomew Sheehan, Jr., prevailed upon his mother, while she was ill and did not realize the consequences of her case to give him full power of attorney which he used, according to the complainants, in having funds, aggregating the amount in question, transferred in the San Mateo banks to the three children.

100-DOLLAR LANDS

MERCED LAND

We have a tract of land, 400 acres, in Merced county, 3 miles from the town of Merced. It lies along the railroad, there being a station on the property. This tract is to be subdivided and sold in 20-acre tracts. It is right in the center of the best sweet potato country in the state. The land is also admirably adapted to the cultivation of alfalfa, peaches, grapes and other fruits.

There is an abundance of water for irrigation. At the low prices that are being asked for this land and the easy terms that are allowed, this land will pay for itself long before all of the payments are due. This section of the valley is just beginning to come under the notice of home seekers. In a few years values will double and treble.

PORTERVILLE LAND

This tract is near Porterville, right in the center of the citrus fruit district, where the most prosperous orange growers of the state have their orchards. Oranges and lemons in this state are crops that always command good prices. It is a business that is not likely to be overdone because the land that is suitable for this purpose is not plentiful.

We are selling this land at $100 an acre and allowing the most liberal terms. We are making it possible for you to improve the land and bring it into bearing as soon as possible. This is an unusually low price for orange land and opens opportunity for very handsome profits, as orchards when in bearing sell at $800 to $1,000 an acre. It will soon all be sold at the price we are asking.

UPPER TULE GROWERS BEGIN ORANGE PICKING

There Will Be No Artificial Coloring of Fruit Before Shipment.

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 25.—Picking of oranges has begun in the upper Tule district, and by the last of the week the first shipments of Porterville citrus fruit will start for the East.

Although the fruit appears to be of fuller color than usual and there is little danger that an attempt at coloring by storage would be detected, no attempt will be made to evade the law, and the fruit will be put in the cars just as it comes from the trees.

There is considerable difference of opinion among the upper Tule growers. It is maintained by the majority that the fact that Dr. Wiley admits that certain oranges are mature in advance of coloring applies to the oranges of Central California, as it is of common knowledge that the southern fruit is often sour even after the full brick-red color is attained. In such cases there can be no violation of the law in subjecting the fruit to the sweat-room process to bring out the brick-red.

However, there are those in the river association who believe that the safe method is the best method, and there is nothing to be gained by taking chances. Therefore the fruit is to be put in the packing cases just as it comes from the trees, with the exception of the protective wrapping.

River fruit is exceptional in grade this year. A very small percentage of the fruit is thrip-marked, the fruit is of saleable size and a very large percentage will grade fancy. There are few culls this year and the crop is fully up to the normal in quantity.

MERCHANTS OF SELMA TO MEET AT BANQUET

Will Discuss Fire Protection and Street Improvement.

SELMA, Oct. 25.—The members of the Selma Merchants' association are to meet for their regular banquet at the Hotel [illegible] on Friday evening of this week. It is quite likely that better fire protection, which was the general topic at the last meeting, will be [illegible] for discussion at Friday evening's gathering. Attention will also be given to the new street and sidewalk work which is being undertaken by the town.

The association is in a flourishing condition, both as to membership and as to results being accomplished. Twelve new members have been added to the association during the past week and plans are being prepared to [illegible] associate membership, created especially for country people who desire to assist the merchants in their boosting of Selma. Several farmers are already active members of the association, and they are doing a great deal to spread the gospel that the merchants should not be alone in contributing funds for advertising the country and boosting its resources.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Appling was conducted from the M. E. Church, South, at this place this morning. The death of Mrs. Appling, who was well known here, occurred at Fresno where she has been residing. Mrs. Appling was a native of Missouri, and aged 67 years at the time of her death. Interment was made in Selma cemetery.

ONLY RIPE FRUIT WILL BE SHIPPED

Estimates of Lindsay Orange Crop Raised By the Local Experts.

LINDSAY, Oct. 25.—A meeting was held here of exchange associated orange growers to discuss the question when to commence the shipment of oranges.

In view of the numerous and ambiguous rulings of the pure food law officials regarding maturity and coloring of oranges, it was decided that the shipping of the fruit from this district should not be begun until the oranges show good color and maturity is undoubted. The result of this decision will be that the earliest shipments of fruit from the Lindsay district this year will be of very much finer quality and the fruit much more mature than ever before.

The extremely favorable weather of the past few weeks has contributed materially to the ripening and improving of the fruit and local experts have raised their estimates of the crop this year. The packing houses, notwithstanding that several of them have been enlarged, are bestirring themselves to handle the largest crop ever sent out from this district.

AUTOMOBILE TAKES FIRE ON STREET

VISALIA, Oct. 25.—The large automobile of Dr. C. M. White took fire this afternoon while standing in front of the physician's office. A carelessly thrown match which ignited gasoline beneath the machine is thought to be responsible for the blaze. A chemical engine reached the scene shortly after the flames were discovered and extinguished the fire. The loss to the auto will be several hundred dollars. No disarrangement of the electric wiring could be found.

DRAYMEN PAY UP; REALTY MEN REFUSE

VISALIA, Oct. 25.—Several of the draymen arrested yesterday because they declined to pay a license, called upon the license collector today and settled, one of them, Wallace Emrick, paying under protest. The realty men have not yet paid and say they will fight the case. A list of dealers doing business in Visalia will be presented to the collector tomorrow with the demand that he collect licenses from each not so far solicited, failing to do so it is alleged proceedings will be commenced against him for dereliction of duty. Realty dealers arrested declare they do not object to the license but declare that favoritism is being shown in its collection.

COULD NOT SLEEP WITH ITCHING RASH

All Over Baby's Body, Head and Face. Scratching Made Sores. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Have Had No Further Trouble.

"On July 27, 1909, we left Boston for a trip to England and Ireland, taking baby with us. After being in Ireland a few days a nasty rash came out all over his body. We took him to a doctor who said it was chicken pox, and gave us medicine for him. The trouble started in the form of a rash and was all over baby's body, head and face, at different times. It irritated, and he would scratch it with all his might. The consequence was it developed into sores, and we were afraid it would leave nasty scars on his face.

"When we reached England we took baby to another doctor, who said his condition was due to change of food and climate, and gave more medicine. The rash got no better, and it used to itch and burn at night so bad that the child could not sleep. He was completely covered with it at different times. It was at this time that my mother advised us to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for about nine months the places disappeared. There are not any scars, or other kind of disfigurement, and baby is completely cured by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We have had no further trouble with baby's skin. Nothing stopped the itching and allowed baby to sleep but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Margaret Gunn, 20 Burrell St., Roxbury, Boston, Mass., March 12, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 14A, Boston, for free sample of each with 32-p. book on the skin.

PIONEER, AGED 79, DIES AFTER 60 YEARS IN STATE

HANFORD, Oct. 25.—[illegible], a pioneer of [illegible] years in California, passed away [illegible] at the home of his son-in-law, M. [illegible], seven miles south of this city last night. He was 79 years of age. Old age and an attack of heart disease [illegible] on him late yesterday contributed to his death. The body will be shipped to Oakland tomorrow [illegible]. A large family of [illegible] Rourke and Mrs. W. [illegible] of this city are [illegible].

SAYS NOW CRITICAL PERIOD IN MARKET

Hanford Packer Declares Growers' Salvation in Own Hands.

HANFORD, Oct. 25.—Raisin buying is practically at a standstill in Hanford and vicinity. The packers are receiving goods rapidly now and have enough coming in to fill this month's orders and in some instances run them through November. The local California Fruit Canner's Association plant is however, purchasing a few layers and fancy goods, but others are busy handling what is being delivered and the buying branch of the industry is quiet.

Manager Beckhuis of the North Ontario Co. still maintains that the quality is poor this year, though other managers say that it is no worse than for several seasons.

"Just at the present is a critical time as to future prices," said Mr. Beckhuis today to a reporter, "because the packers are only just taking care of purchases and the east is not inquiring much. Many growers want to sell now, because if they do not, they must prepare to store their goods, which entails considerable expense. So it is the same old story—too many goods being thrown on the market at once. With this condition existing, prices will continue downward, until bedrock is reached, and then when that point is struck, prices will start to steadily rise again to what they should be. This condition exists every year. So long as the growers will sell at low prices prices will go down. The price of raisins at this critical time, and in the future, depend entirely upon the growers, who make or break the market by throwing or not throwing their goods on the market at this critical time.

VISALIA CLUBMAN AT DEATH'S DOOR

VISALIA, Oct. 25.—Word received from Los Angeles states that Jerry Donovan, manager of the Visalia Gas Company, is lying fatally ill in a hospital in the southern city. He went south to be operated upon for cancer of the stomach. An incision disclosed a growth so malignant that to remove it would mean death. There was nothing to do, therefore, but to sew up the wound. Surgeons say that the patient may linger for a few weeks, but his death at any time would not be unexpected. Mr. Donovan has been a resident of Visalia for a quarter of a century. He is a prominent clubman and prominent in business circles, and news of his fatal illness has been received with universal regret.

OUT OF HIS HEAD AFTER LONG TRAMP

MADERA, Oct. 25.—Frank Wilson, a man 70 years old, was found on the road near Borden yesterday by Sheriff Westfall and City Marshal Northern, who received a telephone message that a crazy man was there. Wilson was a trifle out of his head, having come from Fresno in the hot sun and being unable to find water. He was in a very weak condition when found, and had he been left to wander would have died in a short time. He was brought to the jail, and later taken to the county hospital for treatment.

CLAIM VINTNER SOLD WINE TO YOUNG GIRL

Owner and Manager Arrested at Instance of Probation Officer.

TULARE, Oct. 25.—[illegible] Giannini, who owns a winery near this city, was arrested last night by Sheriff Collins on a complaint of Probation Officer Cross, who charges that Mr. Giannini furnished wine to a minor girl, Marie Scholz of Visalia. The defendant was brought to this city and taken before Judge DeWitt and arraigned. He deposited cash bail for $100 for his appearance this afternoon, when Friday, November 3rd, was set for his preliminary examination. Joe Velenno, the manager of the winery, was also arrested and bailed out for $[illegible].

A few days ago Clarence Catches and Andrew Harrell were arrested in Visalia on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Marie Scholz, who is said to be about 16 years old. It appears that the two men, Miss Scholz and a Mrs. Marie Harvey, alias Marie Swan, went out for a "joy ride" last Wednesday night, and came home rather the worse for liquor. Some disturbance was created in Visalia and Mrs. Harvey was arrested. She was sentenced to serve a term in jail or leave town. She chose the latter. The men were then placed under arrest for being the cause of the young girl's downfall. When questioned as to where they got their liquor, they said they secured it at Giannini's winery. The officers then began looking into the matter and as a result placed Mr. Giannini under arrest.

Mr. Giannini declares that there is no truth in the statement that he sold or gave any wine to the party. He says that one of the men who was with the girls came to him to talk about a land deal, and in the course of the conversation, asked to sample some wine. While the men were in the cellar, the girls came in and stood in the doorway. One of them asked for a "pill," meaning a cigarette. They seemed to be under the influence of liquor at the time and claimed that some one had stolen some beer from their machine. Mr. Giannini also denies that he sold any one of the party wine or other kind of liquor.

FUNERAL IS HELD OF MRS. W. M. HUFF

TULARE, Oct. 25.—The funeral of the late Mrs. W. M. Huff was held this morning at 10:30 from her late home on North C street, the Rev. Mr. Smith of the Christian church conducting the services. Music was furnished by Mrs. Evans and Miss Fern Haydock. A large number of friends and acquaintances were present and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. At Tulare City cemetery Rev. Smith offered prayer, and while the casket was being lowered the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

ANOTHER SALOON GIVES UP FIGHT

VISALIA, Oct. 25.—Another former saloon constituting what was formerly the Palace bar, removed its bar fixtures today and will install a cigar stand instead. There are now but about four places which maintain their fixtures and are engaged in dispensing soft drinks. It is understood that some of these will dispose of their fixtures and go out of business shortly. The rooms formerly occupied by saloons are, as fast as vacated, being occupied by mercantile lines, good store rooms being in demand.

APPORTIONMENT

The principal purpose of the called session of the legislature, besides necessary enabling legislation for some of the constitutional amendments, is the reapportionment of the state under the new census. And if there is to be any getting through the session before Christmas, or, for that matter, for many months thereafter, there must be some immediate agreement on the basis of this apportionment.

The experience of the last session ought to have shown conclusively that there is only one possible basis for such an agreement, and that is the constitutional one, which is that the districts shall be as nearly as possible of equal population, by the census.

Plausible arguments may indeed be made in favor of any one of several schemes of unfair distribution. But no one of these schemes can be agreed on by the representatives of conflicting interests. One selfish interest will not yield to another, though both might yield to a fair scheme which disregarded both. It is easy to agree, to be sure, that the country shall have a fuller representation than the cities, because the county members are more intelligent and honest. All the country members will agree with this. On the other hand, the cities may argue that they should have more representation proportionately than the country, because they are growing faster. San Francisco may demand to be apportioned by the census of 1915, and Southern California by the dreams of its real-estate boomers. But the right way is to disregard all these contentions and go by the census. It will have to be done that way eventually, and it might as well be now.

SHIFTING THE ISSUE

It ought to be a public crime to befuddle an issue the way it is being successfully done with this McNamara trial in Los Angeles. Already before the case is fairly started, with the first juror not yet definitely secured, the correspondents describing the trial recognize that the issue has been shifted from the guilt or innocence of the defendant—to the merits or demerits of union labor. The shifting is deliberate, and is done to confuse the issue. Under our system, too, there seems to be no way for the judge to prevent it. Judge Bordwell is an exceptionally careful and forceful judge, but even he has been put at least twice in the anomalous position of being rebuked by attorneys for interfering with their conduct of his court. Questioning talesmen himself to ascertain more directly their actual state of mind, he has been "called down" by attorneys because his questions were not in line with the course of inquiry they had laid out. It was ridiculous bluff on their part, of course, but a system under which even a good and strong judge must submit to that sort of thing is more ridiculous still. He is still held down too much to the position of umpire in a game in which others do all the playing.

There would be more than a personal wrong if this shifting could permanently succeed. The actual issue is the guilt or innocence of the particular defendant, and sooner or later this fact will be brought home to the jury. But it will not be brought home to the public if good lawyers can prevent it. Suppose, then, that the evidence should show McNamara's guilt so conclusively as to compel his conviction, but that the agitation should have stirred up large numbers of people to believe that this is a class war, not an individual trial. The inevitable result would be riots, at least in Los Angeles, and probably elsewhere. The very pretense of a class war might precipitate the reality of one. And that would be calamity unspeakable.

Let this case be tried, if possible, on the only point at issue, which is, in brief, Did James B. McNamara blow up the Times building? If he did, he is many times a murderer, and ought to be hanged. If he did not, or if there is any reasonable doubt about it, he ought to be turned loose. And that is all there is to it.

NO CANDID FRIEND

Heaven has, evidently, saved President Taft from too much of this affliction, and that is exactly where his principal political difficulties have lain. He has needed, as every man secluded by high place must need, the brutal candor of frank friendship. He has had blundering press agents, who misrepresented him to the people, and he has had bungling reporters, who misinterpreted the public situation to him. Some of the best things he has done have turned out to be boomerangs, simply because he did not understand the people, nor they him. And when he has had, sometimes, a friend talk candidly to him, he has not known how to take the unwonted view point.

A fabled emperor of China, who lived in a porcelain palace, is said to have had a nightingale which came to him every day and told him what had happened in the world. Of course the bird told the truth, which is what gave its words value above the flatteries of courtiers. President Taft has at times needed such a nightingale, but unfortunately he has ordinarily been "saved" from any such "candid friends."

ERRORS FOUND IN ELECTION RETURNS

Secretary of State Calls for Corrections From 28 Counties.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—The constitutional amendment election returns from Los Angeles, which were the last out, were received by Secretary of State Frank Jordan today, but he was unable to give out the official vote on the election for the reason that errors were found in the returns submitted by twenty-eight counties of the state. These incorrect returns have to be sent back for correction, and it may be a week before it returns to the secretary of state.

COUNTERFEITERS IN THE MEXICAN JUNTA

Two Members of Gang Plead Guilty at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—F. N. Guiterrez, and Gumescindo Valenzuela, alleged by government secret service operatives to be the head of a gang of Mexican counterfeiters, pleaded guilty in Judge Olin Wellborn's federal court today and will be sentenced next Monday.

Secret Service Agent Hazen declared the men to be the cleverest and most successful counterfeiters that ever operated on this coast. From papers seized in Valenzuela's room it appears that he was the treasurer of the Los Angeles junta in charge of the insurrection in Lower California. This junta collected money from Mexicans for their cause, and this was turned over to Valenzuela. In place of the good money, officials declared, counterfeit was substituted with the result that great sums of bogus coin were sent into Mexico to finance the insurrection.

The "mint" of the pair was found in a little cabin in the Mexican quarter. The gang's specialty was half dollars and it is claimed these coins were so good as to deceive even experts. Small merchants, street car conductors, restaurant men and others were made the medium of exchange by the gang and federal officials estimate their profits at thousands.

LODGE MEMBERSHIP FIGURES IN TRIAL

Ten Jurors Secured in Axtell Case Subject to Challenge.

STOCKTON, Oct. 25.—When the second day's court proceedings ended this evening in the case of Editor Sam B. Axtell, charged with the murder of Charles Sollars, a prominent business man of Lodi, on June 10th, the attorneys for the defense had accepted temporarily the eleventh juror, ten prospective jurors having been accepted by both sides subject to peremptory challenge.

Much of the questioning put to talesmen bore on lodge affiliations. Axtell is a Mason and an Odd Fellow. J. A. Henning, an electrician, who is a Masonic brother, upon being asked by the defense if his fraternal relations would influence him against a death penalty should Axtell be found guilty of murder, after long silence said:

"Not consciously, but it might unconsciously." He was immediately challenged by the prosecution and excused.

Much stress was laid on the attitude of prospective jurors relative to the death penalty. J. C. Cardwell, a saloon keeper who was examined for his qualifications as a juror, declared that he was opposed to the death penalty under any circumstances and was excused. Large crowds are in daily attendance. The wife of the accused man sits by his side constantly, occasionally speaking to him and frequently holding his hand.

URGES VOCATIONAL TEACHING IN SCHOOLS

President of Northern California Teachers Addresses Convention.

CHICO, Oct. 25—Present-day methods of teaching came up for sharp arraignment today at the first annual gathering of the northern section, California Teachers' Association, meeting in this city. Lulu E. White, president, in opening the session, said that the teaching methods should be directed toward the vocational training of students rather than merely preparing them for entry into the next higher school.

"There appears to be a lack of perfect adjustment between our system of education and the demands of life at the present time," Miss White declared. "Fortunately, the time is fast coming when the grammar school will cease to be merely a fitting school for the universities."

The development of the playground movement in this country was discussed by the delegates at some length. E. B. Degroot, general director of playgrounds and recreation science of Chicago, told the gathering that Chicago's efforts in this direction had reduced the delinquency of school children 17 percent since it was undertaken.

The election of officers will be held tomorrow.

HE FILLS THE BILL

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Manchu Test

Chinese rebels make those they suspect of being Manchus count six and determine from their pronunciation of "six" whether or not they are of hated Tartar origin and, therefore, candidates for beheading. That is almost as cruel as the American wife who lines her convivial husband up against the wall at 3 a. m. and makes him repeat very rapidly "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers," and if he makes the slightest break, disciplines him for drinking again.—Pasadena Star.

Changing "San Jose"

The name of San Jose is a hoodoo, Secretary Brooks of the San Jose chamber of commerce has said it, and the remark seems to have been provoked by the failure of President Taft to include San Jose in the list of cities he honored with his presence on his recent tour. The presidential train did not stop at San Jose—it did not even hesitate, but flew past like a streak of chain lightning. Hence Mr. Brooks has started a movement to change the pronunciation of the garden city from "San Hosay" to Santa Clara. The last named town, to simplify matters, is to be annexed to and become part of "San Hosay."—Salinas Index.

Dr. Wiley and Paper Money

A scratch on one of the fingers of a Waltham, Mass., banker, led indirectly to his death, the scratch affording opportunity for the entrance into his system of germs from the hundreds of thousands of dollars of paper money counted daily. It might be suggested now that Dr. Wiley is back on the job that he be instructed to make a microscopic examination of the money in circulation and file a report thereon. It has always been conceded that as a desseminator of disease germs the dollar bill has no equal in the world. While Dr. Wiley could no doubt determine the exact number of microbes to the square inch on the average dollar bill, it would still leave the modus of extermination to be discovered. One thing certain is that the vast American public will not forego the pleasurable opportunity of handling the bills, trusting to chance and science for a means of protection.—Alameda Times-Star.

"Somewhere" Songs

Governor Wilson of New Jersey does not like the "Somewhere" song about which so much has been said and written.

He thinks it "silly and meaningless."

Perhaps he is right, although many will disagree with him. Frankly the following verse from "Somewhere" will never find a place in the great poems of past and present times:

Somewhere the sun is shining,
Somewhere the angles wait,
Somewhere the clouds are rifted,
Close by an open gate.

This will not live as long as that other classic which ends with this verse:

Oh, somewhere in this favored land
the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing, and
somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Boston, mighty
Casey has struck out.

For a "Somewhere" song this baseball epic is somewhat of an improvement over the song to which Governor Wilson objects.—Oakland Enquirer.

Embarrassed By His Friends

Booker T. Washington has written a letter to the Brooklyn Standard Union explaining that he did not charter a Pullman car for his private use in Texas; that two or three dozen negroes occupied the car with him on a lecturing tour that lasted ten days, that he was not separating himself from his race, that the car was paid for by a negro business league in Texas, that white men in Texas approved his lectures and helped to defray their expenses and that he had the cordial cooperation of both races in his undertaking. He especially stresses that there is not the antagonism between whites and blacks in the South that some of the Northern newspapers persist in alleging.

The point is that it was Northern newspapers that gave great publicity to the canard that Washington had hired the car for himself because he was unable to obtain a single berth or section and Northern newspapers siezed upon it as a text to develop into a sermon accusing the South of cruel discrimination against respectable negroes who wish to travel. Now Prof. Washington is compelled to tell them that they don't know what they the talking about and to ask them, in effect, that they keep quiet lest they do a great deal of harm by their meddling.—Columbia State.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Fifty thousand Americans left European ports last week in the homeward rush. Many hundreds of thousands of Americans will leave American seashore and mountain resorts tonight and tomorrow to get back to the routine of the autumn and winter. The number of domestic homecomers will be swelled by the crowds returning from their out-of-town trips over the holiday. The railroads and express companies will reap a rich harvest, certainly, but not without a good deal of extra labor. The home-coming crowd will not lack welcome. There is plenty of room for all of them here, and the time is at hand to get busy."—From the New York Times.

MRS. O'LEARY'S COW VINDICATED FROM GUILT OF BURNING CHICAGO

Mrs. O'Leary's cow has been exonerated of the charge of incendiarism, culpability, or complicity, whichever it was, in connection with the fire that made Chicago an ash-heap forty years ago.

Mrs. O'Leary's cow did not kick over the lamp that set fire to the barn that set fire to the city of Chicago and did $200,000,000 worth of damage.

Mrs. O'Leary's cow could scarcely, with justice, be called an accessory before the fact, although it is admitted if she had not been in the barn that night, but in the pasture where she belonged, there would have been no fire.

Mrs. O'Leary's cow—unfortunately now beyond the reach of comfort from a full and careful explanation—was an innocent victim of circumstances over which she had no control, rather than an obstreperous female prone to mischief.

On that fateful night she was quietly chewing her cud, after the manner of her kind, when milk poachers from the neighborhood interrupted the continuity of her ruminations by appearing on the peaceful scene and beginning to remove that which belonged, exclusively, to her mistress.

During the process of abstraction, however, the purloiners, thought they heard the owner coming, and precipitately fled, knocking over in their flight the lantern they had brought with them.

That was the origin of the fire, not the impact of the cow's foot on the lamp while she was being honestly milked by Mrs. O'Leary herself.

The correct version comes from a newspaper man who met Mrs. O'Leary at the time, and whose recollections of that interview, with its denunciation of the now popular legend as a gross fabrication, have been published as an incident of the celebration Chicago has just held in honor of her Phenixian rise from the ashes.—Sacramento Bee.

POPULAR SONGS SOON DIE; WHY SOME OTHERS ENDURE

Probably the best evidence that a teacher can give to a pupil who continually solicits the popular music of the day is to point to the ephemeral existence of such pieces, asserts a writer, in the Etude. Unless a musical composition embodies in its musical art it is destined to live but a very short time.

Possibly the pupil may then call your attention to the folk songs of the different nations, many of them so old that their origin is completely buried in mysteries of the past. In such a case the teacher should call the pupil's attention to the fact that most folk songs that last are based upon simple and logical artistic requirements. They embody some sincere and human emotion, and violate none of the requirements which are imposed upon a composition. Their endurance is largely due to their lack of pretentiousness. Their charm is in their simplicity and naturalness.

In order to show by the powerful means of contrast just how enduring real art is we have compiled the following list. Practically all of the songs "forgotten" have come into existence in the last 30 years. Here are some forgotten ones.

"Wait Till the Clouds Roll By."
"Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay."
"After the Ball."
"When the Leaves Begin to Turn."
"On the Banks of the Wobash."
"Two Little Girls in Blue."
"Sweet Violets."

Among these that will always live are:

"The Erl-King "(Schubert, 1794-1859.)
"Nina" (Pergolesi, 1710-1736).
"My Redeemer Liveth" (Hundel, 1685-1759).
"With Verdue Clad" (Haydn, 1732-1809).
"Polly Willis" (Dr. Arne, 1710-1778).
"Der Nussbaum" (Schumann, 1810-1856).
"Sapphic Ode" (Brahms, 1833-1897).

This list could be increased to ten times its present size without much effort. The immortal songs will be as fresh and new 100 years from now as they are today. Audiences and musicians will demand them as as much as then as now. The others will doubtlessly drop into complete oblivion. Why waste one's time with music that is for the moment only? Plenty of good music is produced nowadays for educational purposes. These pieces are the rungs in the ladder reaching to the heights of the immortal. Make the matter very clear to your pupils and they will regard classical music—that is, music with the qualities which insure endurance—in a different way.—From the New York Herald.

GIRL'S ESCORT KILLED; MURDERER IS SLAIN

Insane Vaquero Goes on Career of Vengeance Near San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—Simon Romero, a resident of Monterey, and Manuel Garcia, his slayer, are both dead and Miss Belen Quezada, daughter of a millionaire planter of Costa Rica, lies seriously wounded as the result of a shooting affray that took place after midnight this morning at the palatial home of the Quezadas in College Park, near this city, and the efforts of the authorities to capture Garcia.

After an all night chase, which was participated in by officers from both Santa Clara and Alameda counties, Garcia was shot and fatally wounded at Warm Springs shortly after 11 o'clock by an automobile load of officers from San Jose, who shot in self defense.

INJURED ON ROCKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The steam schooner Jim Butler, Everett to San Pedro, returned to this port late last night leaking badly from a collision with the rocks off Pigeon Point, about thirty miles south of here. The Butler piled on the rocks in a heavy fog but was able to free herself and make this port, which she had passed during the night. Damage to the steamer was not extensive and repairs will be made before she proceeds southward.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Fair weather prevails over California this morning, the only evidence of yesterday's disturbance being a small depression over the lower Sacramento valley. Elsewhere west of the Rocky mountains there has been very little change in pressure. The sky is clear over the interior of the state but high fog continues on portions of the coast. A strong area of high pressure covering the north plains states has caused lower temperature along the east slope of the Rockies and light snow in Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas has attended the lowering temperature. East of the Mississippi river and over the gulf states the weather is fair with temperatures very near the normal.

Generally fair weather may be expected in Fresno and vicinity tonight and on Thursday, as it is not likely that the small depression about Sacramento will develop any threatening weather.

Judge Austin was asked yesterday to change the place of trial to Tulare county in the case of Grant Fallenstein against Hyde & Eddy of Visalia. The suit is for a balance owing on a second-hand piano.

Judge Austin will resume today the trial of criminal cases with that of Adolph Pierini for an assault with a deadly weapon. Firebaugh's male population will be numerously represented at the trial, 17 being under subpoena issued at the instance of the defendant.

Fire Chief Wintemute will recommend to the fire commissioners a strict compliance with the provision of the fire ordinance calling for the presence of a paid employe on duty as a fireman on the stage while a play is on at a theater. The Barton has an arrangement by which a city fireman is on the stage while off duty. In the other theaters no compliance is made with this regulation in the observance of which a previous board of fire commissioners eased up considerably.

There is a $1000 mortgage on the 10 acres which are little improved. The ten acres are appraised at $2000 but in their present condition there is no way than to pay off the mortgage save by the sale.

Appraisers W. C. Eden, Gus Anderson and W. M. McDaniel reported yesterday on the contest of S. E. Kearney, a judgment debtor, that the homestead of R. C. Mattingly in Lots [illegible] in city block [illegible] is of the fair market value of $11,000. The house on lots 3 and 4 is returned at no value, and the appraisers further say that the property can be divided without material injury.

BOND REQUIRED ON I STREET REPAVING

The job of the resurfacing of I street will be accepted by the city after an adjustment made with Contractor Chittenden. The adjustment condition will be for him to give a bond guaranteeing the work for five years and agreeing to keep the block in good repair for that period. This demand will be made in justice to the property owners on the block, because according to the chemical analysis the percentage of asphalt and the screenings going to make up the paving mixture were not strictly according to specifications.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy Ever Used

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply for 50c. Money Refunded If It Fails.

If someone in your family has an obstinate, deep-seated cough—even whooping cough—which has yielded slowly to treatment, buy a 50 cent bottle of Pinex and watch that cough vanish. If it fails, money back promptly, and without argument.

A 50 cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy that money can buy, at a saving of $2. Gives instant relief and will usually wipe out a bad cough in 24 hours or less. Easily prepared in five minutes—directions in package.

Pinex Cough Syrup has a pleasant taste—children take it willingly. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both good features. Splendid for croup, hoarseness, throat tickle, incipient lung troubles, and a prompt, successful remedy for whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other elements which are so healing to the membranes. Simply mix it with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle, and it is ready for use. Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

$50,000 PAID INTO COUNTY TREASURY

Sum Represents the Total Tax Collections for This Year to Date.

Twenty thousand dollars in cash was paid over to the county treasurer yesterday by the tax collector, making $50,000 since tax collections began on the 9th inst. Treasurer Hickman gave timely warning that he would call for another $10,000 today or tomorrow but the tax collector has on hand sufficient to meet the demand three over. The treasurer is in need of money to pay off current demands and these frequent accommodating payments of tax money make it unnecessary for the custodian of the funds to break in on $20,000 at interest.

Tax collections yesterday footed up $10,200.78, being the second largest day's collections as against $10,811.06 on Friday last. Collections yesterday were made up as follows: State and county, $5547.66; Fresno city, $4199.05; Selma, $30.12; Coalinga, $52.13; Kingsburg, $229.51, and Fowler, $31.51.

SOCIETY

Among the most interesting affairs of the week will be the house party over the week-end presided over by Mrs. John Griffith Roberts, at her home in Madera. As this is the first large affair to be given by this charming young matron, since her marriage, more than usual interest is centered about the entertainment. The Madera County Club, annually entertains at a "Ladies Night" which assumes the formal nature of a ball, and as it occurs on Saturday night, Mrs. Roberts' guests will also be in attendance. The invitation list includes a number of Fresnans and also several San Franciscans.

The members of the Home Department of the Parlor Lecture Club are looking forward to the merriest sort of a frolic this afternoon, when the first of a series of "health afternoons" will be given. The affair will be decidedly informal, and the scene will be one long to be remembered for the members are to assemble in costume and celebrate with a real kindergarten party. Mrs. H. H. Alexander, the chairman of the department, has a very interesting program planned, but as it is the deepest secret, no hint of the entertainment is to be had.

Mrs. W. W. Phillips entertained a large number of her friends at bridge yesterday afternoon, complimenting Mrs. Frederick W. Beardslee, of San Francisco, who has been enjoying a visit in Fresno, as a guest in the hospitable S. N. Griffith household. From the beautiful grounds about the residence were culled exquisite roses in various colors, which adorned the spacious rooms in tasteful simplicity. Five tables were arranged in the living room and library, and after an hour or so of the game souvenirs for high score were awarded to Mrs. E. M. Roanin, Mrs. S. L. Strother, while Mrs. C. E. Mandeville carried off the consolation.

The Wednesday Afternoon Card Club held a jolly meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. James Gearhart at her home on Van Ness Avenue. The Wednesday Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. M. Carr at her home on J street, to enjoy the presentation of Josephine Preston Peabody's "The Piper," graphically given by Miss Beasley Brooks and corps of assistants. Miss Brooks is especially clever in child parts, and her portrayal of Jan, the little lame boy, was all that could have been expected. Mrs. L. R. Wilson assumed the role of the Piper very excellently, and Mrs. Frank Reilly capably presented two characters, Veronika and Barbara, and Mrs. S. S. Hockett, was a sturdy Michael. Mrs. John Sturk of Omaha, Nebraska, was the guest of the club.

Mrs. Scott McKay was a charming hostess yesterday afternoon at one of the cleverest of the season's festivities, her guests being members of the Koffee Klatch. Hallowe'en's approach influencing the decorations, to a large degree. An enormous pumpkin was hollowed out and made into a most attractive fruit bowl, which graced the center of the refreshment table and little wee ones of papier mache served as place souvenirs and were filled with salted nuts. Appropriate place cards, with witch designs bore the names of Mesdames H. E. Barnum, Andrew Dungan, Scott McKay, Chas. Sayre, James Trewitt, J. Godwin, J. D. Morgan, Charles Bonner, Mark Webster and Miss Ruby Olney.

The Take Embroidery club held an unusually pleasant meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Robert McCourt at her home on Clark street. After an hour or so of needlework, refreshments were served. Mrs. Eugene J. Cox was the guest of honor at a happy little family dinner yesterday, in celebration of her birthday. Red and white dahlias and roses were used in ornamentation of the rooms, and also in elaborating the dinner table. A number of beautiful gifts were presented to Mrs. Cox as mementos of the occasion. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Cox, Miss Charlotte Cox and Glenn Cox.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday morning at St. Alfonsus church when August Biehle and Miss Frances Bendosky were united. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Nealon, assisted by Brothers Roberts and the bride's nephew, A. Bennosky. After the ceremony many congratulations were received by the happy couple. They then left for the home of the bride's brother, A. Bendosky, where a bountiful wedding breakfast was served, red and white roses decorating the rooms.

The bride wore a beautiful robe of white silk and carried a white prayer book, while Miss Bertha Biehle, sister of the groom and the bride's only attendant wore a pretty gown of blue silk and a black picture hat. William Biehle, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride is a very accomplished and charming young lady, being a graduate of the Notre Dame college in the east, while the groom is a prominent young man, holding a high office in the Knights of Columbus and in the Y. M. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Biehle left on the evening train for an extended honeymoon trips through Southern California and Catalina Islands.

Many beautiful wedding presents were received, among which were some valuable silverware and cut glass. Only the relatives, Father Bishop, Brother Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wheeler were present at the wedding.

WANT ANOTHER MILE OF YOSEMITE PAVED

Madera Property Owners Favor Improvement of Main Avenue.

MADERA, Oct. 25.—Property owners along Yosemite avenue are having City Attorney Rhodes draw up a petition which will be presented to the city trustees on next Monday night asking that the paving be extended along the avenue from F street to S street, a distance of about a mile further than the paving included in the contracts already let, making about thirteen additional blocks. The property owners living along the avenue are almost unanimous in their opinion that the avenue should be paved, as it will conduce much to their comfort and convenience, especially in winter time. They figure that the property will be enhanced a great deal by the paving and will ask the board to include those blocks in their contracts. It is believed that the request will be granted and that the trustees will call for new bids to take in the additional work.

PLAN TO REMODEL OLD STORE FRONT

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 25.—Work started this afternoon with a large force of men on the reconstruction of the last of the old-fashioned store fronts in the Main street business district. When the plans have been carried out the Thomas Hardware Company will be housed in a thoroughly modern building with a modern plate glass front which will be in keeping with the Masonic Temple and other new buildings which it adjoins.

In the rear of the present building is to be constructed a two story addition with a large basement, which is to be used as a storage and sales room.

C. OF C. CLUB ROOMS READY FOR OPENING

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 25.—Members of the Ladies' Improvement Club completed the furnishing of the ladies' rest room in the club rooms of the Chamber of Commerce today and the enterprise for which they are responsible will therefore be in readiness for the opening of the club next Friday evening.

Leslie W. Lanmeister, who is the secretary of the club and who is in charge of the invitation list, reports that by far the greatest number of those to whom invitations for the opening have been sent out have accepted and a guest list of nearly two hundred is expected.

This affair will be in the nature of a smoker and will be purely informal. The ladies are to be bidden to a formal reception which will be given later and which will probably take the form of a reception-dance.

REEDLEY BRIEFS

REEDLEY, Oct. 25.—Reedley's only exhibit at the County Fair took a first prize. It is adorned with two blue ribbons, and is visible at the office of the Reedley Land and Loan company. It is a bromide enlargement of a photo of J. C. McCubbin's Manna Gum, the largest 22 year old tree in the world with a girth of 15 feet and 2 inches three feet above the ground.

The Jensen property, including the opera house, was bid in by L. L. Chamberlain. He has set a force of men at work to complete the unfinished store building on G street. The Grand theater, the new play house, will be opened on Saturday with the Newman Foltz Company as the house warmers.

The Y. M. C. A. will give a banquet next Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Grand hotel at 7:30. Outlines of the work for the coming year will be presented and an enthusiastic time is predicted.

The Reedley Drug Company's business has been purchased from the Casebolt estate by H. F. Wiggins of Los Angeles.

WOMEN WILL STUDY CIVICS AND POLITICS

Improvement Club to Incorporate These Departments in Year's Work.

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 25.—Porterville women are making preparations to take up their duties as citizens and a number of the leading spirits of the Ladies' Improvement club are planning a certain number of meetings each month to be devoted to a study of civic and national political questions.

At the present time the activity of the organization includes the care of the Luther Burbank Park, the park commission being the Improvement Club as a body; they are interested in the plans for the improvement of the grounds of the various schools and they have accepted the responsibility for the care and maintenance of the rest rooms which will be a department of the new club rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

While few of the women have registered thus far it has been due to a misunderstanding and in view of the impending special school election, which may be called within the next sixty days, a large number of registrations are anticipated in the very near future.

MALAGA ITEMS

MALAGA, Oct. 25.—The usual preaching services will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening, conducted by Rev. J. F. Jenkins.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. M. Cartwright, on Front street, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Pauline Johnson, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. W. T. Rickards of San Francisco, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rickards.

Mrs. J. F. Jenkins has returned from a visit with friends in Lindsay.

Mr. L. M. Haycraft, of San Francisco, is visiting his relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Myers are the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Colley.

W. W. Cartwright, who has been with his ball team during the season, has returned home.

RESIGNS TO TAKE UP PASTOR'S WORK

Rev. N. F. Hoffpauir, who for three years has been the superintendent of the Fresno district of the Children's Home Society of California, has resigned to take up a pastorate in the Methodist church. His successor will take up the work on the 1st of next month. When Mr. Hoffpauir came to this district, the work was at a low ebb but it has become a strong arm of the Juvenile courts throughout the valley and the number of applicants for these children has multiplied by four.

HIGHWAY ACTION WILL NOT BE RECONSIDERED

Recommendation of Board Favoring Kearney Ave. Allowed to Stand.

The recommendation of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce that the state highway come into Fresno by way by Kearney avenue, will not be changed.

The executive committee yesterday discussed the matter briefly and an opportunity was given to make a motion that the matter be reconsidered. None of the directors were willing to make the motion and all informed President Giffen that they did not wish to recommend any other route into Fresno.

At a joint meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the directors of the Merchants' Association, held last week, it was decided to have each organization take up the matter again in separate session. The Merchants' Association will not take action until next week.

Free Cure for Constipation

Send Your Name and Address Today.

It has been decreed that the old style pill for medicine must go. Most constipation remedies are as bad as the disease and often cause terrible griping, due to the powerful medicines they contain. Most constipation remedies give only temporary relief, and a pill night after night becomes monotenous.

The new laxative, Phigandy, is eaten like candy, at bed time, and a gentle movement of the bowels without any griping or pain is the result in the morning. It seems a pity that people should suffer when such a simple remedy can be had for the asking, for the manufacturers, The Phigandy Co., 684 Mission Street, San Francisco, will be glad to send a sample free by mail postpaid to any sufferer who will send his name and address.

Phigandy is sold by all druggists at 25 cents per box. It is guaranteed to do the work or money refunded.

MAY USE KERN COUNTY ASPHALT IN EUROPE

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25—E. M. Lovell, formerly with the Eastern Consolidated Refining Company of the Kern River field, has become associated with George C. Calhoun of the National Oil Refining and Manufacturing Company as secretary and treasurer, and has gone to New York to close a large contract for asphaltum to be used in England and the continent of Europe. Mr. Lovell will meet John J. Steele, a paving contractor of Australia, in New York, and may then go to Europe in case he cannot conclude the business on this side of the Atlantic.

This is one of the contracts which Mr. Calhoun has been negotiating for some months past, and is regarded as a very important one, as it is likely to open up a large amount of business for Kern county asphalt in country heretofore held exclusively by the Trinidad product. Once the asphalt made of Kern county oil is thoroughly tested in the old countries, it is believed that it will supersede the trust asphalt altogether.

KERN RIVER LEASES TO START UP AGAIN

Report Says All Properties Will Be in Full Swing By Next March.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25. — News came out from the Kern River leases yesterday that all of them will be in full swing again by next March.

For some months past, while there has been great curtailment of output, many men have been laid off. Certain lines of business, in Bakersfield, have felt the effect of it, temporary though it was, and the fact that full crews will be at work again at a given time will encourage the uneasy ones concerning business.

FAITHFUL MEMBERS TO BE RETAINED

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25—Members of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency who have been most faithful in attending meetings, will be kept on the directorate when it is pruned down to seventy-five members. It is stated that two-thirds of the members have presented their resignations to the committee of five, and within a short time the directorate will be announced anew.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Between Promises and Actual Results.

Promises won't overcome hair trouble. The manufacturers of Newbro's Herpicide promise nothing which is not justified by an intelligent use of the preparation. The desired end ultimately becomes an accomplished fact. This is the reason that Herpicide has thousands of satisfied friends all over the world.

By keeping the scalp clean and healthy and destroying the dandruff germ, Newbro's Herpicide makes beautiful hair. Herpicide prevents the hair from falling and allows it to grow unhindered and naturally except in cases of chronic baldness, which is incurable.

One dollar size bottles are guaranteed by all druggists to do these things.

TRANS-CONTINENTAL HAS LARGE HOLDINGS

Considerable Gas Showing in Company's Well in Lost Hills.

COALINGA, Oct. 25—The Trans-Continental Oil company, operating in the Lost Hills, on section 28, 26-21, is 1400 feet deep in well No. 1, with 10 inch casing. The well was started with a rotary, but has been changed over to standard tools. There is considerable gas in evidence and a good showing of oil indicating a good well. W. F. Reniger, treasurer and general manager of the company, of Boston, Mass., has been in the state several days, looking over the various interests of the company. The California office is maintained in Coalinga. The company is made up of Boston people who have great faith in California oil and its future.

In Santa Maria the company is operating on the Laguna ranch property. The rig for well No. 1 is completed and the well will be spudded in at an early date. The wagon roads have been completed into the property and a water well has been drilled, furnishing an abundance of water for operating. The company holds the controlling interest in the Pay Oil company, in Midway, and is also interested in section 6, 20-16. It has bought the Coalinga Anticline Oil company's holdings and personal property on section 20, 20-16. The company will soon be in condition to commence development work on the last named property.

BRIEF OIL NOTES FROM BAKERSFIELD

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25—The San Francisco-Midway Oil Company, operating on the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 25, 32-23, will be dissolved. Howard E. Wright of San Francisco, who is president of the San Francisco-Midway, was here yesterday for that purpose. The company has drilled two wells since the first of the year when it began operations.

The Los Angeles-Midway Oil Company has given a mortgage to the McKittrick Operators' Oil Company for $3000 to all property on section 6, 31-23.

EL SEGUNDO REFINERY NEARING COMPLETION

Standard Expects to Have It in Operation By First of January.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Under the supervision of R. J. Hanna, the big refinery of the Standard Oil Company at El Segundo is rapidly taking shape and Hanna expects to have it in operation by January 1, 1912. Present indications are that the refinery will become one of the largest in the entire country.

Among the many improvements projected by the Standard is a pier seventy feet wide and extending 4,000 feet into the ocean. This will allow a double line of railroad truck to extend to the end of the pier and sufficient depth to accommodate all ocean going vessels. Since the breaking of ground wonderful progress has been made in construction. Four miles of railroad have been built and a concrete sewer has been put down. A high picket fence completely surrounds the works and office buildings.

The boiler house and other buildings are all built of concrete. At this time fifteen 1,000 barrel stills are under construction and on an eminence, five 55,000 barrel tanks are being built. These will have a gravity outlet to the plant. A trunk pipe line will extend from the tankage at El Segundo to the company's tank farm at Los Nietos.

Superintendent Hanna is now employing nearly 600 men and 500 mules are used in the work of excavation. The monthly pay roll is approximately $150,000. When the refinery is completed its initial capacity will be 5,000 barrels a day but this is expected to be increased to 90,000 barrels, if necessary.

COALINGA ROYAL DOWN 1500 FEET

COALINGA, Oct. 25—The Coalinga Royal Oil Company, section 8, 19-15, has well No. 2 down 1,500 feet. The bit passed through several stratas of sand and shale carrying oil and gas, but not enough showing to warrant a testing out. The company is now drilling for the lower oil sand.

The Coalinga Syndicate Oil Company, on section 31, 20-15, drilled well No. 8-A into the top sand last week. The well is now on the beam for the purpose of testing this sand. It will be drilled into the lower sands and each sand tested.

GASOLINE MAKING MAY BE REVOLUTIONIZED

Fellows Man Has Invention for Which Remarkable Things Are Said.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25.—Through an invention made by J. Trimble of Fellows, it is predicted that the manufacture of gasoline will be revolutionized. It is said that with two men and a single boiler and with equipment erected, at a cost of $2500, as great a quantity of gasoline can be turned out as is now turned out by the Standard Oil Company at its Richmond plant with several hundred men and eight boilers. It is said that Trimble has been offered a fabulous sum by the Standard for the rights to his invention.

Trimble is a young tool dresser who has been at work on his invention for years. The invention is capable of producing 10,000 barrels of gasoline a day. Trimble proposes to sell the plants on a royalty basis and predicts that the retail price of gasoline will go down from 25 cents a gallon to 10 cents a gallon. The invention is protected by eight patents.

A number of oil men have seen the invention in operation and they have expressed much astonishment at the way in which it works.

HAYES, CEMENT EXPERT, RETURNS FROM BURMA

Berkeley - Coalinga Puts Well No. 2 on 72 Hour Test; News Notes.

COALINGA, Oct. 25.—Thomas Hayes the cement expert, now field manager for the Burma Oil Company, of India, has returned to America. The illness of his wife has hastened somewhat his return. Hayes will remain in America about two months on company business before returning to Burma. The condition of Mrs. Hayes will somewhat effect his stay. Her condition at present is not encouraging.

The Berkeley-Coalinga Oil Company, section 2, 21-14, put well No. 2 on a 72-hour test last week and it developed 57 barrels per day. The oil is 18 degrees to 20 degrees gravity, free from water and silt. Well No. 3 will be completed in a few days and will be put to producing at once. Another 500 barrel galvanized iron tank will be put on the property at once to care for the production.

The Coalinga Gateway Oil Company, section 18, 21-15, organized in San Jose, has taken over the Coalinga Consolidated and will finish up the well started by the former company. The hole was left at 1,500 feet. The new company is reported to be well financed and will push the development work.

The Dominion Oil Company, section 7, 23-17 (Kings county) has well No. 1 down 3,030 feet with 8 1-4 inch casing. The water was successfully cemented off at 2,117 fet with the 8 1-4 inch casing. Mr. Warner has drilled further into the oil sand and has now 230 feet of what appears to be a promising sand. The well will be tested this week.

The Zier Oil Company, section 1, 20-14, has spudded in well No. 16. Under the present management the property is making a good production. This property is a lease from the Southern Pacific company, the only lease taken over by the Hammond syndicate.

The Seneca and the Ward Oil companies, section 12, 20-14, have all their wells pumping and about the old production resumed. The surplus oil held in storage has been shipped. A full crew of men is at work, and the wells have been cleaned out and the property put in good shape.

The Wilcox and Flaschaker well on section 12, 20-15, is 4,180 feet deep with 8 1-4 inch casing. At this point the lower water has been shut off. The 6 1-4 inch casing is now being set in.

The Palisades Oil company, section 2, 21-16, has well No.1 down 3,000 feet with 8 1-4 inch casing. The formation is now light brown shale with some gas occasionally showing.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR BIG DEAL

Hammon Interests to Take Over Oil Properties on November 1st.

COALINGA, Oct. 25—The Hammon interests have made final arrangements for the taking over of the many properties, in the field, upon which options were secured several months ago. The transfer of the land will take place on the first of November, when the first payment is to be made.

Hammon recently returned from New York and upon his return certain modifications were made in regard to payment of the cash part of the sale and it is understood these payments will cover a period of three months. Final payment is to be made the first of February. It is said all the companies have agreed to these modifications and the deal will go through without a hitch.

The Hammon people have already taken over the Welch property and have one well in the oil sand there. All of the other properties are producers. The balance of the properties are the Empire, DeLuxe, Silver Tip, Lucile, Republic, Amy, Bunting & Brix and Zier and Central.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO ENTERTAIN GIRLS

Will Give Class Dance as Return Compliment to Young Ladies.

A spirited gathering of boys of the Senior class met at the high school yesterday afternoon to plan an entertainment for the girls of the class. Several weeks ago, the girls complimented the boys at a very pleasant social dance, which was held at the home of H. H. Brix, on Fresno street. Consequently, the boys think that it is "up to them" to do the honors as soon as possible.

It was decided yesterday to hold a class dance in the auditorium of the high school on the evening of Saturday, Nov. 11th. A committee of three will be appointed by President Wakefield, to arrange the social and musical program, and to provide refreshments.

An extra assessment of 50 cents will be levied on each boy of the class, to pay the expenses of the entertainment. The walls and ceilings of the auditorium will be wreathed with greenery, and green and white paper pennants will be suspended from various points of vantage.

SHERIFF TO MOVE INTO COURTHOUSE

Sheriff McSwain is looking about in the courthouse building where to locate his offices during the period that the county jail is partially dismantled in the remodeling process. The only available quarters are on the basement floor adjoining the ward for the confinement of the insane people. These rooms are very dark, but can be lighted up by cutting in connecting doorways in the walls. The sheriff when he was also assessor and tax collector was located in the early days in these basement offices in the original courthouse building now the central portion of the present structure, with the jail cells in the basement portion now occupied by the county assessor.

FRESNO COUNTY AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION
Office of the Secretary
1036 J Street
Fresno, Calif. Oct. 24th, 1911.

To
The Board of Directors of the Fresno Co. Agr'l Assn. for information of the Hon. Board of Supervisors of Fresno County and the Public in general.

I take pleasure in handing you herewith as complete a report of the affairs of this Association as is possible to make at this time and which I think is complete with the exception of a few small items which may come in later.

Pages 1 and 2 of the following is a trial balance taken from our books Oct. 20th, showing all business of this year together with previous years not already charged off.

Page 3 is a statement of outstanding stock account.

Page 4 is a summary of 1911 Fair showing receipts and expenditures and the net profit of 1636.69. This statement as you will note does not include the County donation of $2000.00 usually given us. This net profit is being applied to old bills.

Page 6 shows a list of old bills paid to date from profits of this years Fair. We have endeavored to curtail these expenditures to the minimum consistent with the handling of a good Fair. We have made mistakes but are open to suggestions from all sources. I feel we should vote an expression of thanks to the Supervisors the Daily Papers, the Merchants' Assn., Banks and all business houses which closed Fresno Day and all others giving us their time and support.

C. G. EBERHART,
Secretary

RATES FOR PHONES STAND FOR PRESENT

Klette Says City Will Have Inning on Franchise Renewal Application.

City Trustee Klette as chairman of the city board's committee on lights, water and telephones candidly admits that for the present effort has been abandoned to bring the telephone company under regulation as to rate charges and demands made on subscribers such as $5 deposits and party line conditons.

"Two opportunities which are near at hand and which will save us much trouble and worry and possible litigation over rate regulation present themselves," he says. "The first of these will come about in May when the company's franchise expires and when it will undoubtedly make application for a renewal. The city will be in a position to name terms then in the interest of the public and for an improvement in the service.

"The other contingency is more remote and presents itself when the city charter is amended."

Mr. Klette says that he is frequently called upon to adjust differences between subscribers and the telephone company. He states that the recent extension of the lines into the northern residence districts has stopped many complaints.

BITTEL'S

Healthy Mouths Make Healthy Men and Women

If one could obtain an exact record of the ailments of mankind, such a record would doubtless disclose the fact that stomach disorders constitute a large majority of the ills of the human race. Stomach troubles proceed or have their origin usually from these causes, viz: Improper food or imperfect mastication of the food, either one or both. The former cause we can not remedy, but the latter we can, provided it is because of defective teeth that the food is not well chewed. A healthy mouth is one filled with efficient well-cared for teeth, and you will find as a rule that only healthy men and women possess healthy mouths.

WE RESTORE TOOTH HEALTH.

If your mouth is lacking in healthy conditions due to tooth troubles, we can restore your tooth health and with it will come that guarantee of general good health that proceeds from a proper performance of the natural functions of the teeth. That we execute the best work known to the dental profession is our claim and it is the reason why we ask your consideration when seeking a dentist's services. To convince you of the merit of our claims relative to the superior character of our work, we know of no better way than to invite consultation with any of our patients. There are hundreds of them right here in Fresno and elsewhere in the county and valley. We will give you their names and from their verdict you can determine if we are deserving of your confidence or not.

WHY WE KNOW HOW.

It is fifteen years since we commenced practicing dentistry and the latter ten of these years of our professional lives we have had many experiences and cases covering every form and variety of tooth trouble known to the human race. Extensive and varied practical experience, like this naturally has given us a knowledge of the "know how" of all dental work that could not be acquired in any other manner. But it is not alone our own experience that we have drawn upon to perfect our knowledge of dental science. We have pursued a policy of progress that has caused us to investigate and adopt every new and practical discovery of the world's best dentists. We have from time to time attended Eastern dental clinics where new ideas were demonstrated. The result is, a perfection of knowledge and a pride in our work that guarantees to every patient the best dental work that can be obtained anywhere.

CHARGES REASONABLE.

No matter what work is needed, whether much or little, our charges will always be found reasonable. Consultation and examination are free and it is just a question of putting your time against ours to learn what, if anything, is needed to put your mouth and teeth in healthy condition and thereby annex the assurances of good health that good teeth guarantee. Always remember that there is no obligation incurred by you to engage our services because you consult us. After consultation it is all up to you.

DR. RACHAEL BENN TALKS ON CHRISTIANIZING CHINESE RACE

Woman Physician Delivers Interesting Lecture at M. E. Church.

Speaker Practiced Medicine in Orient for About Twenty Years.

Relating incidents of Chinese life and how the Orientals were slowly but surely being Christianized, Dr. Rachael Benn, formerly a missionary in China, last night delivered an interesting lecture at the First Methodist church at the corner of M and Tuolumne streets. Dr. Benn was introduced by Dr. John L. Pitner, pastor of the church, who in a few brief remarks told of the speaker's mission to this city.

Dr. Benn while in the Orient was connected with many of the different large hospitals and in that manner came in close touch with the customs of the Chinese people. She, last night, told the audience of incidents that actually surprised those who thought themselves well versed in the lives of the inhabitants of the Orient.

"Few people realize the vast population that is housed in China," said the medical missionary woman in the course of her address, "and many people labor under the impression that the Chinese should now all be Christianed because of the money and time that the missionaries have spent in the orient. This is a mistake and people should not believe such as there are over four hundred million inhabitants in China.

"When I first reached China many years ago. I was angry to find in what a low esteem the Chinese men held their wives and women at large. An unmarried Chinese girl or woman is hardly recognized and her name is never mentioned. At first I blamed the Chinamen for their narrowmindedness, but later when I found that this had been the custom for centuries I became broader in my own views and started to reason with the men.

"The Chinamen beat their wives and when I inquired into this found that it was a custom and that the women were not whipped for acts that they had committed. I asked one Chinaman why he abused his wife and he replied that if he didn't the other men would laugh at him. This is the way I found things in China when I arrived but before I left I noticed that a great change had gone over the people.

"Schools cannot be erected fast enough to accommodate the number of Chinese that are seeking to learn more about Christianity and the outside world. The Chinamen at first thought that it would be impossible for the Chinese girls to be educated. When the girls learned to read the men thought that they were possessed with evil spirits but gradually the change has come about and there are now more children clammering to get into the schools that we have, room to accommodate."

Dr. Benn spoke at length about the Boxer rebellion and told of the Christian Chinese children that bravely went to their deaths rather than stamp upon the cross or denounce their religion. Dr. Benn remarked that this was the kind of material that made good Christians. She told of the custom of binding the feet of the little girls until the toes turned under the foot. The speaker also told of how she had been called to the homes of the Chinese officials where two or more of the wives had engaged in a dispute and had attempted to end their troubles by taking poison.

The speaker said that she hoped the revolutionists would win their cause, because if they did their would be a Christianized China in a few years.

Dr. Benn spoke in Fresno under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. She will leave this afternoon for Porterville to attend the Fresno district convention of the society. While in Fresno Mrs. Benn is the guest of Mrs. R. T. Hall. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. A. G. Moreland expect to accompany Dr. Benn to Porterville.

Talks on Oral Hygiene or The Care of the Teeth

By W. W. CRAYCROFT, D. D. S.

There was once an Irishman who had a big hole in the roof of his cabin. He was asked why he did not mend it and replied: "Well, sir, when it rains I can't mend it, and when it doesn't rain I don't need it mended." That is the way many people regard their teeth. When they ache they do not want them fixed and when they stop aching, they forget all about it. It is this indifference regarding the teeth and their care and preservation that causes much physical suffering. Good health is absolutely impossible without good teeth and even with good teeth you must use them properly, and thoroughly chew and insalivate the food before delivering same to the stomach in order to obtain that degree of health that only abides in a well nourished body. Today an all important factor in preserving tooth health is ... ...

PROPHYLACTIC TREATMENT.

This is, strictly speaking, a preventive treatment, the administration of which arrests and prevents tooth decay, and by establishing and maintaining sanitary hygienic conditions in the mouth preserves tooth health and keeps the teeth in proper condition to thoroughly perform their natural function of mastication. I have made a most careful study of praphylactic treatment. It has been a hobby of mine for years. I administer it to all my patients and they will vouch for the highly beneficial results that have accrued to them from its use. It is a treatment needed by all whose mouths and teeth are not in a healthy condition.

I WILL TELL YOU ABOUT IT FREE.

I will gladly give you as much of my time as necessary gratis, to explain this treatment, to examine your teeth and advise you regarding any needed repairs to same. You incur no obligation by the acceptance of this invitation and if you want me to do any work, I will charge you only what you can afford to pay. Remember, I guarantee all my work.

MAY INVITE IRRIGATION CONGRESS TO MEET HERE IN 1915

Presents Reasons in Letter Why Efforts Should Be Made By Chamber.

A movement to secure the National Irrigation Congress for Fresno in 1915 was launched before the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday by John Fairweather. Fairweather gave his reasons why Fresno should have the Irrigation congress and pointed out that in all probability the congress would be held in California at that time anyway. He said the holding of the congress in San Francisco at that time would make it a failure because it would be greatly overshadowed by the fair.

The executive committee received the communication and referred it to the committee on advertising of which John W. Short is chairman. The communication was as follows:

Gentlemen:—

Some few weeks ago I suggested the idea of Fresno taking steps to have the National Irrigation Congress held in Fresno in 1915. We did this, believing then and do now, that that congress will be held in Panama during the Panama exposition, and, for a further reason, we fully believe there is no better place to hold it in this state, than in Fresno, the capital city of Central California.

To hold it here would not cost the delegates and their friends from outside of this state, one cent more in railroad fare than if it were held in San Francisco, and to hold it in that city, there would be so much to see that the Irrigation Congress, as a congress, would be a failure. Experience of the past proves this to be a fact.

Now, if Fresno wants it, the coming congress, which will be held in Chicago December 4th to 9th, is the time to lay the foundation for it in 1915. It will cost us some money, say from $12,000 to $15,000 and more than that if we want to specialize in advertising. But as our county has commenced with a special tax for advertising purposes for the year of the Panama exposition, it should be an easy affair to supply this fund, and, as it is a national affair, our neighboring counties should help us as was done to help Sacramento some years ago.

The work of this congress does not begin and end in a few days. It should be fully understood that if Fresno is selected, it means it will be the headquarters of the congress for a whole year. As soon as the previous congress work was closed up, the secretary would move here and establish headquarters for the congress and all work preparing for the next one would be done here. Nearly all of the cost would be paid out here in Fresno. A local board of control would be organized to help direct the work and see how all moneys were spent.

The fact of Fresno being the convention city would give us the greatest advertising that we have ever had or will have after it for many years. We hope to have the Convention hall completed long before that and also many new hotels, so that the 3000 delegates and their friends, whom we may at least reasonably expect to be in attendance, could easily be taken care of.

When the Panama committee was here I spoke to Mr. Dohrman, chairman of that committee, of this matter and he fell in heartily with the idea that it would be a good thing, and in his talk before our supervisors, he suggested that some of the money raised by the special tax could be used for special home advertising and we fully believe that to get this congress here would not only be a good thing for Fresno but for the whole San Joaquin valley. The advertising matter sent out could and should cover the valley as far at least as the valley was disposed to help us out in the work.

The call for the coming convention is now out and delegates are being selected to attend, or those that will attend it, and if Fresno is to get into the work to get the congress for 1915, a live and active delegation should be selected for that purpose.

I have said it will cost us $15,000 or more. Some cities have spent three times that amount. Spokane in 1909 spent over four times that amount; Pueblo last year spent over $30,000; but a great part of this is spent for some exhibition of irrigated products as a side issue.

What the congress expects every city having to do, and they must pledge themselves to do it, is:

Deposit a certified check with the officers of the congress for $5000 or $6000 for the use of the officers of the congress. This is to pay the secretary's salary and traveling expenses of the board, or say executive committee when attending meetings in the city. No officer of the congress is paid a salary except the secretary. The city must also furnish a hall and committee rooms free and print the proceedings of the congress in book form with paper covers, say 3000 or so of these reports, also stenographers, etc., and other help. These are the special requirements of any city getting the congress and the committee of the city must put up a bond to cover this expense, but they can spend as much more as they please.

If Fresno thinks it would like to have this large national congress, now is the time to act.

NO TAX DUE FROM ESTATE OF JENSEN

Share Coming to Either Son Is in Any Contingency Less Than Exemption.

M. M. Dearing reported yesterday that no inheritance tax is due from the estate of Niels P. Jensen, the fair market value of which is $7590 and less costs and charges leaving subject to tax $5925.38. At the death of decedent one-half passed to the widow, Katie, and the other half to her for life, but as she has an exemption of $10,000 it is clear no tax is due from her.

The will provided that upon her death the life estate should go to the sons, Christian S., and Magnus S., share and share alike, or if either be dead, then to his heirs by right of representation, and in case of either of said children dying before their mother leaving no issue, his share go to the survivor.

The appraiser observes that in the most extreme of these cases—in which one of the children takes the whole property after the death of the mother—the value of the estate he would receive is less than $4000, the exemption allowed an adult child under the old law, and at the date of the death of the decedent both children were minors.

IN THE LODGE ROOM

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

About 250 members of the Knights of Pythias and their friends last night gathered about a banquet table in Pythian hall and celebrated the 25th anniversary of the installation of the lodge in this city. H. F. Briggs acted as toastmaster and responses were made by G. P. Cummings, Sigmund Wormser, Dr. E. C. Dunn, J. J. Miley and others. Special music was rendered for the occasion and a good time was enjoyed by those present. Before the banquet a short business session was held and a number of applications were received. During the month twelve candidates will be elected.

REBEKAHS MEET

Friendship Rebekah Lodge met in regular session and transacted routine business last night. One candidate was elected to membership. Quite a number of visitors were present during the session and many interesting remarks were made pertaining to the good of the order.

After lodge closed the doors were thrown open to the public and the regular annual entertainment for the benefit of the orphans' home at Gilroy was held. A program was given, consisting of an instrumental number by Master Ralph Vosburg, recitations by Mrs. Baker, Hattie Baker and Mrs. Vosburg, solo by Lorena James and piano solo by Mrs. Havner.

Later in the evening card playing and a masquerade dance were enjoyed by the large number of members and their friends. The lodge extends thanks to all those who assisted in making the entertainment a success and helped to swell the fund for the benefit of the orphans' home.

S. H. ABRAMS IS HELD ON TWO MORE CHARGES

Must Answer to Superior Court for Alleged Embezzlement.

Sidney H. Abrams was yesterday held to answer to the superior court on two charges of embezzlement by City Justice George B. Graham. The cases were bitterly fought in court by Attorney Lewis H. Smith, who has been retained to defend Abrams. Abrams was recently convicted in the Superior Court by a jury of embezzlement and time for passing sentence has been set for next Monday morning. It is very likely that the decision will be appealed.

Yesterday morning Abrams was given his preliminary hearing on a charge of embezzling $150 from Mrs. Julia Lindahl, a nurse of this city. It was brought out in the testimony that Abrams had accepted the money from the witness with the understanding that he purchase oil stocks. A receipt given by the defendant was introduced by the prosecution.

In the afternoon Abrams was tried on a charge of embezzling $526 from the Oak Shade Oil Company while acting as one of their agents in this city. It is alleged that he sold stock and failed to turn the money into the treasury. George H. Hudson, secretary of the oil company, was the complaining witness in the last case. In default of $2,000 bonds in each case, Abrams was returned to jail.

Assistant District Attorney McCormick represented the prosecution in both cases. Abrams was lodged in jail last summer after he was traced across the desert and into the mountains by Deputy Sheriff Botorff.

INQUEST HELD OVER ARC LIGHT VICTIM

Death Was Accidental, Says Coroner's Jury; No Relatives Found.

Official inquiry into the cause of the death of W. L. Fuller, Southern Pacific guard, who was killed in the railroad stockade early Tuesday morning, when an arc light fell on his head, was held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Coroner William A. Bean. After deliberating but a short time the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the foregoing facts.

Yesterday, the address of a man in Portland, Oregon, was found among the effects of the dead man, and a telegram was sent to him, asking what should be done with the remains. Up to a late hour last night Coroner Bean had received no reply.

The landlady of the Arlington hotel, where Fuller roomed, was the first witness. She identified the remains as those of W. L. Fuller and stated that she knew nothing about the past of the man.

J. K. Sheban, an eye-witness to the accident, testified that he saw Fuller shake the cable leading to the light and saw the light fall, but didn't see it strike the guard on the head. He stated that he had run to where Fuller was lying, but that he was already dead. An employe of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company testified that he had examined the light and found that the light was shaken off the hook by the violent pulling of the cable. Dr. O. B. Doyle, the railroad physician, told of the nature of the injuries.

Several guards from the stockade testified that while the men pulled on the cable to readjust the carbons, they were not ordered to do so by the company and did it upon their own accord, as they knew that it would make the light burn more brightly. Detective Ady, who is in charge of the guards at the stockade, testified that he had employed Fuller and that Fuller had been in the employe of the railroad company for about two weeks.

It was announced that if relatives of the deceased were not located, the railroad would pay the funeral expenses. The jurymen were James A. Ward, Emory A. Donahoo, George W. Haffton, L. P. Pollard, T. A. Hoag and M. T. Lockhart.

PACKED HOUSE GREETS TEAL'S CHORUS CONTEST

Packed, jammed to suffocation, was Teal's Theater last night to witness his novelty show, "King Gazooks" and the merry Girls' Contest.

It was some show for the money, and the girls entered into the contest with unusual vim, putting their various numbers over in Keith and Procter style.

Teal has a bevy of girls that any manager should be proud of for they all work like they had a money interest in the show.

King Gazooks is a clever musical offering full of good numbers and comedy that makes you laugh.

Friday night Mr. Teal is going to give a Grand Cake Walk for the entire lady members of the company and a great treat is in store for the play goers that will be lucky enough to get seats.

POLICE JAIL MEXICAN FOR GRAND LARCENY

Sixth Arrest Is Made in Attempt to Break Up Mexican Gang.

Mike Valinlea, a Mexican, was arrested yesterday morning by Patrolmen Davis and Enos and charged with grand larceny. Valinlea was lodged in the county jail, where five of his comrades are being held on various charges while the police investigate their past records.

Valinlea was arrested in Chinatown on information furnished by a Japanese clothing merchant. The Mexican is charged with having stolen clothing from the Oriental merchant. He was identified as the Mexican that had entered the Japanese clothing store in company with one of his countrymen at the time when watches and a suit of clothes were stolen. Valinlea denies any connection with the case, and when lodged in jail he failed to recognize any of his comrades. The police claim that the recognition was not made in order to throw the officers off the scent.

The arrest of Valinlea makes the sixth Mexican lodged in jail by the police in the attempt to break up the gang of thieves that has been operating in this city and valley for the past few months. Yesterday several more stolen articles were claimed by owners which had been stolen several months ago. Police Detectives Farnam and Goehring yesterday called at the district attorney's, but District Attorney Church was not in his office and no complaints were drawn.

HALF OF CHINESE OF FRESNO SEVER QUEUES

More Are Having Braids Taken Off Each Day; About 1200 in City.

About one-half of the Chinese men of Fresno have severed their queues in response to the revolutionary edict issued last week, according to a statement made by a local Oriental yesterday. The percentage will be much greater, it is believed, when the queue cutting is ended for it is said that every day a number of queues are severed. The Fresno Chinese section is almost wholly in sympathy with the revolution.

Some revolutionary bonds have been purchased by Fresno Chinese but just how many is not known. The Chinese population of Fresno, including women and children, is between 1,000 and 1,200.

GOLD EXHIBIT FROM ALASKA FOR NEW YORK SHOW

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 25.—Gold nuggets, contributed by Alaska mining men and worth $175,000, will be shipped from here this week to New York to form part of the Alaska exhibit at the New York land show November 3rd to 12th. In order to make the shipment of the treasure more secure, the railroad over which the gold will be carried will not make public the day on which the shipment will be made. Other products besides gold will be found in the Alaska exhibit, among them being vegetables raised near the Arctic Circle, grains and grasses of the North, furs and copper and silver ores.

UNIVERSITY BEQUEST NOT WISH OF HUSBAND

H. H. Hart Wanted Mansion for Elks' Home, Say Fresno Friends.

The bequest of Orpha Spinks Hart, wife of Howard H. Hart, a millionaire mining man, well known in Fresno, giving to the University of California her beautiful home in Piedmont to be used as an art museum is said by local friends of the millionaire to be in direct conflict with his wishes.

It is said here that when Hart deeded the beautiful home to his wife, he told her that he wanted it to eventually become on Elk's home. Hart's local friends claim that he often expressed that wish and that his wife was well aware of his desires.

Hart is now in Piedmont and as far as is known, has said nothing about any action that might be taken regarding the home. He is expected to come to Fresno within the next few days.

The Hart home was completed only last spring. Mrs. Hart has a sister, Mrs. Leona Bartlett, residing in Fresno.

MY HUSBAND'S CHILDREN AMUSING FARCE COMEDY

Popular Empire Theater Draws Capacity Houses Nightly.

With only three nights of this week gone and those the dullest of the entire week, all former box office records at the Empire have been broken by the phenomenal success of "My Husband's Children," the amusing farce comedy that is being staged this week. Never was there a more tangled and apparently unsolvable plot than there is to this laugh provoking play. In presenting it, Director Frank Thorne is not only presenting an entirely new bill, but he is exploiting the members of the company in lines of work they have never been seen in before. Imagine Thorne as a comedian. It is hard to do so because he has always been seen before as "the villain," yet he has one of the best comedy parts in the play. Al Edmondsen is winning much praise this week by his clever work. His make-up is causing great comment and before the week is over he will have become the owner of the title "Mutt" on account of the great resemblance he bears in his make-up to the "Bud" Fisher creation. Rea Berger, Max Walzman, Max Hoen and Clifford Thompson are also well cast in this show.

Miss Myrtle Langford's callisthenics costume this week is causing envy among the women and interest among the men and aside from this, she has an altogether charming part to play. Miss Ella Houghton is seen in one of her favorite characters, a maid with a romantic mind. Edesse Fowler as the stern, righteous maiden lady and Lizetta Holdsworth as one of "Her Husband's Children," increase the comedy.

WE MAKE OUR OWN HARNESS HERE IN OUR FRESNO FACTORY

Big Reductions In Harness, Saddles Bridles, Etc.

All of the harness that we sell we make here in our own factory. It is the best harness that we know how to make and we have had years of experience. It is better and more strongly made than Eastern factory made harness, yet we sell it regularly at lower prices. If you are any judge of harness you can see this for yourself. If you are not we can show you the points of superiority. We are closing out our line of double harness. The prices are exceptionally low.

In making this harness we use a little better grade of leather than unscrupulous dealers use. This difference is not apparent to the uninitiated; it only can be told by the fact that the grade we use gives better service. Then in the stitching we use a better grade of thread and stitch it better. This prevents it from ripping and makes it more satisfactory generally. There are various points of superior excellence, little refinements, small in themselves, yet combining to make Wooden harness a better harness than you ordinarily get.

And this harness is thoroughly guaranteed. You get the best harness, made right here in your own section of the country. If you should by any possibility need to take advantage of your guarantee, you can do so with out any loss of time and with the necessity of sending away for a part.

We also have all sorts of saddles from light riding saddles to the heaviest of stock saddles. Like all of our goods, they are made of the best of materials and the workmanship is the dependable kind that you can rely on.

WILLIAMS SCORES ALDEN ANDERSON FOR FAILURE OF THE SHASTA BANK

Commissioner Announces That He Will Soon Pay Depositors 75 Cents on the Dollar and Will Sue Stockholders.

Declaring his intention to pay 75 cents on the dollar to Shasta Bank depositors as soon as possible and to vigorously prosecute the stockholders, State Bank Commissioner Williams has issued a public statement concerning the Shasta bank, recently taken over by Alden Anderson. In the statement Williams does not spare his successor, charging Anderson with gross neglect and saying that if Anderson had closed the bank when he should have, the depositors would have received dollar for dollar without suit. Williams says that Anderson bought the assets of the bank, not with any altruistic purpose, but forced by an indignant public and the lash of the Shasta grand jury. He calls upon the grand jury to publish the result of its investigation.

Williams' statement follows:

The sale of the assets of the Bank of Shasta county is a measure of substantial, retributive justice. Alden Anderson, whose delinquencies as Superintendent of Banks, and whose gross neglect of palpable public duty, made possible the extent of the failure of the Bank of Shasta county, has been forced by an indignant public opinion and the lash of the grand jury of Shasta county to buy the assets of the bank.

If Alden Anderson had performed his duty as superintendent of banks he would have closed the institution during his term of office and as a consequence of that action the depositors would have been paid in full without calling upon the stockholders. But Alden Anderson, neglectful of his obligations to the public permitted the bank, during the very time of his observation of its affairs, to become relatively worse to the enormous extent of, at least, one hundred thousand dollars.

Deliberately, and for what purpose the grand jury of Shasta county has made a searching inquiry, Alden Anderson misrepresented to the public and to his successor the true condition of the tottering bank. Then, when Alden Anderson was dismissed from public service, the crash came, a lamentable conclusion which reasonably should have meant disaster to hundreds of men and women who were the victims of designing financiers. When the depositors realized with what recklessness their money had been dissipated their anger naturally found expression against a derelict public official. When the connivance of Alden Anderson became apparent, the grand jury of Shasta county supplemented the efforts of the present state banking department with an inquiry of its own.

Alden Anderson had left California and was in Europe when the storm broke. His friends advised him of the features of the desperate condition in his affairs, and, within the shadow of a criminal prosecution for his official misdeeds, he returned in haste to this state. Consultation with his advisors was immediate. The necessity of absolute willingness on his part to repair a wrong was evident. And yet, in his viewpoint and in that of his financial counselors, there was also opportunity, not only to escape a criminal responsibility, but to realize a profit.

The subsequent misrepresentations of Alden Anderson are public property. To avert the force of public anger he announced that the Bank of Shasta County never should have been closed and that had he remained in office, the depositors would have been paid dollar for dollar. Yet he knew when he said this that it was not the truth, and now he is giving the lie to his own assertions by agreeing to pay a sum that is one hundred thousand dollars less than the sum due depositors.

The depositors will be paid, but not through any altruistic purpose of Alden Anderson. The sale to him is acceptable simply because it makes possible an early dividend to the depositors and closes one of the most disgraceful chapters in the political and financial history of this state. That Alden Anderson escapes a criminal prosecution for his actions as superintendent of banks is essentially a matter for his personal concern. That one, whose official strabismus brought him to the bar, has been compelled to make restitution should be a matter of congratulation to us all. In Alden Anderson's misrepresentations and his posing I am not interested. My province has been to direct the affair of a shattered institution into the safest channel.

Ever since I took charge of the affairs of the Bank of Shasta County I have been actuated by one motive, and that is to safeguard the interests of the depositors of said bank. Notwithstanding the pressure that has at times been brought to bear on me I have not swerved one jot from my duty as I saw it. The result is, that now the affairs of said bank are in such a condition that a very satisfactory and speedy adjustment of all of its affairs is within reach.

When Alden Anderson returned from Europe and was in San Francisco, before going to Redding, he was fully acquainted with the seriousness of the condition in Redding, as applied to himself. He was advised of the need of his doing something to change public sentiment in Redding, and he went to Redding with that one purpose in view. When he arrived there he at once became impressed with the very evident fact that the people desired, above all other things, their money from the wrecked Bank of Shasta county. In order to turn the tide of public opinion in his favor, he immediately made the declaration that the Bank of Shasta county should not have been closed. He said that if he had been in office a little while longer the affairs of the bank would have been straightened out and the depositors would have received dollar for dollar.

The shallowness of this statement is evidenced by the fact that, notwithstanding the securities of said bank had not depreciated one dollar from the time when he was in office, and was supposed to be closely watching its affairs until now, when he is purchasing the remaining assets, he is unable to offer and pay for said assets more than a sum which is one hundred thousand dollars less than is necessary to pay off the depositors in full.

During the time when Mr. Anderson was supposed to be closely watching the condition of the Bank of Shasta County its condition became relatively $100,000 worse than it was when he first became cognizant of its condition. Had he then closed the bank and the same relative amount been realized on its assets, the depositors would have received 100c on the dollar without realizing anything on the stockholders' liability. Undoubtedly, it was the knowledge of this fact that caused Mr. Anderson to exert himself so much in behalf of the depositors of the Bank of Shasta county.

The charge has been made in the press throughout the state that it was the political enemies of Alden Anderson who were charging him with wrongdoing in his conduct toward the Bank of Shasta county. As a matter of fact, all of the disclosures that have been presented have simply been the result of disinterested and unbiased investigation. The public officers of Shasta county will bear me out when I say that I have, at no time, asked for or recommended, any action, whatever, against Alden Anderson except that when the grand jury had investigated all of the conditions preceding the failure of the bank and had become thoroughly familiar with all of them, it make the result of its investigation public. This, I sincerely hope and trust, will be done.

Alden Anderson has stated that I knew as much about the conditions of the Bank of Shasta county as he did, and that if it were in such a bad condition as I claimed, I should have closed it up long before I did. Had I known its true condition when I first entered into the administration of the affairs of the State banking department I would have immediately closed the bank. Both Mr. Anderson and Mr. Wright, one of his examiners, informed me, however, when I first entered into office that, notwithstanding the affairs of the Bank of Shasta county were in a bad condition, the conditions had been much worse and were improving.

Owing to the trust deed that had been entered into, they said the affairs of the bank would, as soon as Mr. Terry could begin shipping lumber, get much better, and, in any event, the depositors were in no jeopardy. The truth of these statements is understood better in the light of the actual conditions as they existed and as they are now publicly known. It was not possible for me, or anyone else, to have taken the proper action any sooner than I did. As a matter of fact, I have not yet become familiar with all of the shortcomings of the previous administration.

Some people, perhaps, in the vicinity of Redding have been induced to believe that I have been supertechnical in my dealings with Mr. Anderson, but when the truth of Mr. Anderson's attitude becomes known, I am sure that practically all of the people interested in the affairs of the Bank of Shasta county will agree with me in the position I have taken.

It will be remembered that one of the conditions that Alden Anderson insisted upon when he made the first offer to take over the assets of the Bank of Shasta county was, that he should be permitted to make the distribution of the assets and pay the amount due to the various depositors, although it was contingent upon my ability to get $100,000 from the stockholders. It will also be remembered that I insisted that I had no legal right to delegate to Mr. Anderson the distribution of said assets.

At the time of the recent conference in Redding, at which Mr. Anderson and a number of the best known attorneys of Redding, Judge Sweeney and myself, were present, Mr. Anderson was compelled to admit that he was desirous of getting control of all of the assets and making the distribution in order that he might be in a position to grant offsets and make terms in any manner satisfactory to himself. He desired to retain in his own possession, and for his own use any amount of money for which the rightful owners could not be found, and which money, under the law, must ultimately get into the State treasury for the protection of any claimant who could not be found at the time the distribution was made.

Alden Anderson admitted that he wanted to take this advantage notwithstanding the public statement that he had made that it was his purpose to pay dollar for dollar to each and every depositor in the bank. During all of the time that the preliminaries of this settlement, that has now been effected, were under consideration, I kept out of the public press, so far as I could possibly do so and maintain my own personal self-respect, although I was attacked and charged with trying to make unnecessary obstacles for Mr. Anderson to overcome. I do not blame Mr. Anderson for attempting to gain the friendship of the people of Shasta county, but I do blame him for misrepresenting the conditions of the Bank of Shasta county before it was closed in order to save himself from censure which, evidently, most of the people of Shasta county believed was his due.

The affairs of the Bank of Shasta county must necessarily follow the course of legal liquidation in order that the right of all persons may be protected. It is my intention to, as soon as possible, declare a dividend of 75c on the dollar and pay it to all of the depositors who have properly filed and proved their claims. I will also prosecute the suit against the stockholders to the utmost of my ability and as rapidly as possible; and as soon as the money is collected from the stockholders, I will distribute it to the depositors.

I hope that the grand jury will soon complete its investigation into all matters pertaining to the failure of the Bank of Shasta county, and that it will make public the result of its investigation. The people will then know whether the Bank of Shasta county should have been closed when I closed it, or whether it should have been closed long before.

HI BOYS GLEE CLUB SINGS FOOTBALL DAY

Melody Will Be Heard on Rugby Field When the Football Season Opens.

The Boys' Glee Club held its regular weekly meeting at the high school yesterday morning at eight o'clock. Miss Alice Smith and Prof. A. G. Wahlberg coached the boys in the preparation of a spirited new school song "Football Day." Since the organization of the high school rugby fifteen, the Glee Club hopes that the song may be sung appropriately at many Fresno victories later in the season. During the business meeting it was reported that the club had been asked to sing at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, the closing night of membership campaign week. At present it is feared that this request can not be granted, since a great many members of the club wish to be in attendance at the High School Senate meeting on Friday, to elect officers of the organization for the next term of eight weeks. It is possible that the Senators may hold their meeting at an early hour, and thus avoid the conflict.

The roster of the glee club now contains over twenty names, and there is no "deadwood" in the personnel of the organization. The boys are unusually enthusiastic over the prospects that this term offers, and President Keefer announces that a number of out of town entertainments may be attempted later in the year.

TEACHERS' CIRCLE DISCUSS CHILDREN

SANGER, Oct. 25.—The teachers Reading Circle met last evening at the home of Mr. W. M. Barr. Miss Griffith of the High school had charge of the meeting and the topic "Natural Tendencies in Children" was discussed at length. Why is the soda cracker to-day such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple — Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

When Will You Buy That Lot In Calwa?

YOU have certainly heard of Calwa and the marvelous opportunities existing there. They are dormant opportunities now. They will spring into life in a very short time. There is a large crew of men at work now preparing the ground for the laying of tracks and the building of the immense roundhouses that are to be erected at Calwa. The moment that this work is completed and the business transferred from Fresno, Calwa lots will go up by leaps and bounds.

These Lots Have Modern Improvements

You know the history of other new towns, how the newcomers bought lots at low prices and later sold at wonderful increases. This will be repeated at Calwa and you may as well be one of those who gain.

Calwa will be a pleasant place in which to live, as there will be all modern conveniences. The streets will be graded and curbed and there will be city water and concrete sidewalks. These things go with the lots. Calwa is only 2 1-2 miles from Fresno and is on two railroads. There is a determined effort being made to interest capitalists in erecting factories at Calwa. It possesses all of the features necessary to make it the best factory town in the San Joaquin Valley.

New York Wins Fifth Game in Tenth Inning

GIANTS FIND THEIR BATS AFTER SIXTH INNING AND WIN THE GAME

McGraw Uses 3 Pitchers and Connie Mack Sends in 2; Coombs Weakens in 9th and Plank Is Beaten in 10th; Doyle Poles 4 Hits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Giants found their bats today and with but one game between themselves and defeat for the world's baseball championship, they won by the score of 4 to 2 in the tenth inning of a sensational, up-hill struggle, against the Philadelphia Athletics, and put themselves again in the running.

Tonight the world's series stands: Philadelphia Americans won three; lost two.

New York Nationals won two; lost three.

While the Giants earned their triumph largely by hard and clean hitting, it was declared tonight by Umpire Klem, the National official, who worked behind the plate during the contest, that had a timely point been taken by the Athletics on the last play of the game, when, with two out, Larry Doyle slid home with the final tally, the runner would have been declared out and the inning ended with the score still a tie, 3 to 2.

Doyle, according to Klem, did not touch the plate in sliding in, and it needed only a protest by the visitors to nullify the run he was supposed to have secured.

GAME GOES TO GIANTS.

The technical claim was not made, however, and the game stands as a Giant victory.

Nobody in the stands knew anything of this and the edge of the crowd's enthusiasm was not dulled by the injection of any technicalities. Seldom, if ever, has there been such a scene of excitement on the historic Polo Grounds as during the sensational and winning rally of the Giants in the presence of nearly 35,000 persons.

35,000 VIEW BATTLE.

Discouraged by the loss of three straight games, with their premier twirling star, Mathewson, twice beaten, their famous left hander, Marquard, for the second time taken out of the box after a home run rap from a Philadelphian's bat and the score 3 to 1 against them, the New Yorkers slung their bats against "Iron Man" Jack Coombs' curves in the ninth to such effect that two tallies came over, tying the score.

Then in their next time up they started in at Eddie Plank, who had relieved the Kennebunk star, and pushed another run across the plate for a well earned victory.

OLDRING POLES HOMER.

New York's hopes had been at low ebb as the game started with Marquard and Coombs as the opposing twirlers and sank still further as, with two men on bases, Rube Oldring drove the ball into the left field bleachers for a home run in the third for three Philadelphia tallies. Coombs was his old effective self, the Giants having scored but one sorry run—in the "lucky seventh."

Ames had relieved Marquard in the fourth and was pitching scoreless ball when in the seventh Crandall was sent in to bat for him.

CRANDALL SAVES GAME.

The turning point may be reckoned from Crandall's injection into the game. The husky twirler, after being passed to first in the seventh inning, but without effect on the score, pitched the Athletics into ciphers in the eighth, ninth and tenth, and came to time with a crackling double with two men out in New York's ninth. His hit scored Fletcher who had doubled, and Devore, another of the day's many heroes, lined a safe drive to left for a single that brought Crandall home and tied the score.

The scene of enthusiasm that accompanied this feat of the Giants was enlivening. The shouting and cheering from the stands merged into one continuous deafening roar. A few moments later came the final yell of triumph on the part of the home enthusiasts who had seen defeat turned into victory as Larry Doyle slammed a double to left, advanced to third when Plank's efforts to catch him on Snodgrass' attempted sacrifice failed and came home when Merkle boomed a high fly to Murphy for an effective sacrifice.

AMES IS EFFECTIVE.

The life of the game centered in the third, ninth and tenth innings, and the pitchers were not so much the focus of interest as in the preceding contests. After Oldring's home run in the third had showed Manager McGraw that his left hander was being gauged effectively by the Athletics, he was obliged to fall back on his second string men. Both of these, Ames and Crandall, more than came up to expectations.

For the Philadelphians, Coombs seemed to have as much speed and wideness of curves in the latter part of the game as ever but the Giants were finding him and there seemed to be no stopping them once they had started.

GIANTS SLAM THE BALL.

The New Yorkers hit the ball harder than in any previous game of the series. Doyle starred at bat with two singles and two doubles in five times up. Murray failed to show any batting form, striking out three times out of five times at bat. He has failed to get a hit during the series so far. For the Athletics, Coombs and Oldring each had two hits.

BAKER IS SUBDUED.

Baker, the sensational sticker of the previous games, failed to acquire a safety from any of the three Giant twirlers. Both teams showed more life on the bases, each side being credited with two steals while both Lapp and Meyers nipped other attempts on the paths.

Startling features on fielding play were not numerous. One of the best was a shoe string catch by Devore off Lord in the first inning. Both sides supported their pitchers in fine style, only one misplay being charged up against Philadelphia and two against New York.

The crowd that saw the game completely filled the bleachers and lower grand stand but there were many vacant seats in the upper stands. Better weather could hardly have been asked for. The sun shone brightly and the air was not unseasonably cold.

LAPP GETS A HIT.

Blanks were scored by both teams for the first two innings. In the third with one out, Lapp, for the Athletics, connected for a single to center. Coombs rapped to Herzog who made a good throw to second which Doyle ingloriously dropped, and both runners were safe. Doyle hung to Lord's high fly but Oldring got one of Marquard's swift ones just where he wanted it, and clouted the ball to the left field bleachers for a home run, scoring Lapp and Coombs ahead of him.

GIANTS GET BUSY.

New York's first run came in the seventh. Merkle opened it by walking on four balls. The Giant "rooters" shouted for a rally and the clamor grew as Barry tossed Herzog's tap to Collins and the latter dropped the throw. Fletcher forced Herzog, Davis to Barry, Merkle taking third, whence he scored a moment later on Meyer's sacrifice fly to Murphy. Crandall, sent to bat for Ames, was passed, but New York's rally was held to a single run, as Davis fielded Devore's rap to Coombs at first.

SCORE TIED IN NINTH.

The Athletics did not score after the third but New York rallied to better purpose in the ninth than before and tied things up. With one out, Fletcher's high one to left dropped safe near the foul line and by good running he reached second. Meyers went out, Barry to Davis, and Crandall came up for New York's last chance. He made good with a hit almost to the fence in right center for a double, scoring Fletcher. Devore, keeping up the good work, scored Crandall with a deep one to center.

Victory came in the tenth. Philadelphia threatened for a moment, when Coombs, after one man was out, made an infield hit. Strunk went in to run for him but was anchored on first as Lord filed to Devore and Oldring was fielded out at first by Fletcher.

DOYLE WINS GAME.

In the Giants half, Doyle opened with a rattling double. Plank ran in on Snodgrass' bunt and threw to Baker. Doyle was on the bag with the ball, however, and there were two on with nobody out. Murray made it one out with a fly to Murphy. It was a short fly, however, and Doyle held third. Merkle hit to better purpose. He boomed one high and far to Murphy. Doyle came home on the sacrifice and the game was New York's.

PLANK AND WILTSE TODAY.

The Giants need tomorrow's game to tie the series; the Athletics to make it four games won and a world's championship. Plank tonight was believed to be Manager Mack's probable pitching selection with Wiltse the man most likely to be picked for tomorrow's work for the Giants. Both teams took early trains for Philadelphia.

EDDIE PLANK WILL PITCH TODAY FOR ATHLETICS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25—The Athletic players reached this city tonight and did not appear downcast in the least over today's defeat.

They fully expect to win the sixth game of the series. It is probable that Plank, who was sent to the relief of Coombs in the tenth inning, will take up the burden for the Mack men tomorrow. The pitching probabilities of Manager McGraw are a puzzle.

It is hardly likely that he will care to risk Marquard again, and with Mathewson eliminated from the game on account of his hard battle on Tuesday, the choice seems to lie between the second string, composed of Crandall, Wiltse and Ames.

History of Fifth Game, Play by Play

FIRST INNING.

Marquard used great speed and was inclined to be unsteady. Lord had three balls and two strikes on him when he drove a short liner to left on which Devore made a wonderful shoestring catch. Devore picked the ball off the tips of the grass and the great crowd cheered. Oldring went out on a grounder to Doyle who made a pretty play on the ball to Merkle. Oldring broke his bat in smashing the ball. Marquard seemed a little nervous and Meyers went down and patted him on the back. Collins was out on a fly to Snodgrass. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Devore hit the first ball pitched to Barry, who got his man handily at first. Doyle hit a weak foul which Baker captured. Snodgrass was given a big cheer when he stepped to the plate. Snodgrass went out by the Baker-Davis route. Davis made a nice pick-up of Baker's throw. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING.

Baker got a hand when he came to the plate. There was another cheer when Marquard fanned Baker. Marquard's speed was terrific. Murphy almost pinched Murphy off first on a snap throw. The crowd jeered Umpire Dineen when he called Murphy safe. Davis waited Marquard out and then fanned. Murphy tried to steal second but was out, Meyers to Doyle. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Murray could not see Coombs' fast ones and struck out. Merkle was another strike out. Herzog bunted between Barry and Baker after Coombs had two strikes on him. Herzog stole second base, the second base stolen by the Giants in the series. Fletcher fanned and Coombs was cheered for his pitching. No run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING.

Barry was out on a grounder to Herzog, whose throw beat the runner several feet. Lapp singled over second, hitting a ball that was far over his head. Meyers had Lapp caught off first on a throw, but Merkle dropped the ball. It was not an error for Merkle. Coombs hit a grounder to Herzog, who threw to Doyle, but the Giant second baseman dropped the ball in his eagerness to make a double play. With a man on first and second, Meyers went down and talked to Marquard. Lord sent a high fly to Doyle. Lapp, Coombs and Oldring scored on Oldring's home run. It was a drive into the left field stand. The crowd went wild and the Athletics players shook Oldring's hands as he came to the bench. Oldring's smash unsteadied Marquard and Collins strolled to first on four wild ones. Collins stole second, Meyers' throw being wide. Baker was out on a grounder to Merkle unassisted. Three runs, two hits, one error. McGraw sent Ames out to warm up.

Meyers made a single, which bounded off Bakers' legs. Becker was sent to bat in place of Marquard. Becker shot a liner to Barry who tried to double Meyers off first base. Davis dropped the ball. Under the rules of scoring, Davis is not credited with an error. Devore struck out and Meyers was out attempting to steal second, Lapp to Collins. No runs.

FOURTH INNING.

Ames gone in to pitch for Giants. The crowd howled when Ames curved the first [illegible] for a strike. Murphy sent up a [illegible] gh foul which landed in Meyers' mitt. Davis was out, when Merkle took his grounder and ran to first. Ames used a big drop and a wide out curve in his service. Barry went out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Doyle hit a long fly into the right field seats and the crowd groaned when it went foul. Doyle then doubled down the right field foul line. The crowd tried to rattle Coombs, but he fanned Snodgrass. Murray fanned for the second time. Merkle was hit by a pitched ball, a fast inshoot, and took first. Herzog ended the Giants' hopes by sending up a high foul to Lapp. No runs, one hit, one error.

FIFTH INNING.

Lapp went out, Doyle to Merkle. The stands gave Coombs a big cheer when he came to the bat for his clever pitching and he responded by singling to left. Lord forced Coombs at second on a grounder to Doyle, who threw to Fletcher. Oldring went out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs, one hit, no errors.

For the first time during the series, McGraw did not take the coaching line. Fletcher sent a high one to Lord. Meyers struck at a ball which hit him in the leg and drove a long foul. Meyers fanned on a high one which was way over his head. Ames was Coombs' eighth strike out victim. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.

Collins fouled out to Merkle on an attempted bunt. The outfielders moved back when Baker came to the bat. Baker went out, Doyle to Merkle. Murphy struck out on Ames' drop curves. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Devore was out when Collins scooped his grounder and shot it to first. Doyle put a single to right field just out of Collins' reach. Snodgrass put up a high one which Murphy took. Doyle stole second. Murray flied to Lord. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.

Davis was out on a grounder to Fletcher, who made a pretty play on the ball and had the runner at first by several feet. Barry got a Texas leaguer to right. Barry stole second, making a beautiful slide. Lapp fanned. Coombs popped to Fletcher. No runs.

Coombs was wild and Merkle walked. Herzog shot a grounder to Barry, who fumbled the ball and then tossed to Davis, who dropped the ball. Fletcher shot a grounder to Davis, who threw to Barry, forcing out Herzog. Merkle scored on a sacrifice fly off Meyers, to Murphy. Crandall was sent in to bat for Ames. On Murphy's throw to the plate Fletcher went to second. Coombs is unsteady and Crandall walked. Devore was out, Davis to Coombs. One run, no hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING.

Crandall now pitching for New York. Lord flied to Snodgrass. Oldring singled through short. Collins flied out to Devore. On a wild pitch, Oldring took second. Baker fouled out to Herzog. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Doyle singled to right. Coombs appeared to have sprung a "Charley horse" in his leg and time was called while Davis rubbed the limb. Play was resumed after a minute. Coombs threw out Snodgrass. Doyle took second. Meyers fanned. Merkle grounded out, Baker to Davis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING.

Murphy hit to Fletcher, who fumbled, Murphy safe on first. Davis up. Davis forced Murphy on a bunt to Crandall, who threw to Fletcher. Barry forced Davis, Herzog to Doyle. Barry was out, stealing, Meyers to Fletcher. No runs, no hits, one error.

Herzog was out, Barry to Davis. Fletcher up. Fletcher dropped a double to left. Meyers up. Meyers was out, Barry to Davis. Fletcher took third on the play. Crandall up. Fletcher scored on Crandall's double to right. Devore up. Crandall scored on Devore's single to left. Score tied. The stands went crazy. Doyle up. One strike. One ball. Devore out. Lapp to Barry. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

TENTH INNING.

Lapp out, Crandall to Merkle. Coombs singled. Strunk ran for Coombs. Lord flied to Devore. Oldring out, Meyers to Murphy. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Plank went into box for Philadelphia. Doyle up. Strike one. Strike two. Doyle doubled to left. Snodgrass up. Strike one. Plank took Snodgrass' attempted sacrifice and threw to third, but failed to catch Doyle. Murray flied to Murphy. Snodgrass is now on first and Doyle on third. One out. Merkle up. Strike one. Doyle scored on Merkle's sacrifice fly to Murphy. One run, one hit, no errors.

NEW YORK GIANTS DID NOT WIN GAME, SAYS CHIEF UMPIRE KLEM

Captain Larry Doyle Failed to Touch Plate in Last of Tenth Inning; Official Scorer Saw the Play; McGraw Admits Facts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The run credited to Captain Larry Doyle in the tenth inning of today's game, which gave the New York Giants their second victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series, was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Umpire William J. Klem of the National League, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire in chief.

Doyle did not touch the plate, according to Klem, and if the Athletic club had made an appeal the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out and the inning would have ended in a tie score. As it was getting dark, the game could not have gone much further.

Umpire Klem's declaration that Doyle did not touch the plate was corroborated by Francis E. Richter of Philadelphia and J. G. Taylor Spink of St. Louis, the official scorers appointed by the National Baseball Commission. Manager McGraw of the New York's admitted after the game, according to Klem, that Doyle missed the plate.

NO PROTEST IS MADE.

Despite the fact that the umpire in chief and the official scorers say Doyle did not touch the plate to make the run legal, no protests can be lodged with the commission as to result of the game, it is said, because the Philadelphia club made no appeal on the play.

Umpire Klem's statement was made to the Associated Press just after the game ended. A question was raised in the scorer's box whether the ball caught by Right Fielder Murphy off Merkle's bat in the tenth inning was caught on fair or foul ground.

Klem said the ball was caught by Murphy in fair territory, that he made his decision that way and that he w corroborated by Umpire Brennan wh was on the right field foul line ne Murphy.

DOYLE MISSED PLATE.

"Doyle never touched the plat Klem then volunteered, "but as th Athletic players made no appeal, th game goes as a victory for New York

In telling the Associated Press o the incident, Klem said:

"When Murphy caught the ball right field, I set myself to see the pla on Murphy's throw. Doyle came lik a streak and made a long wide sli into the plate. He went across wi one leg back of the plate and the oth over it about eight inches or a fo He never got any nearer than tha I saw it plainly and waited. Usual I run to the dressing room when game is over, but this time I stood the plate for several minutes waiti to see if the Athletic players wou appeal. Lapp evidently did not s that Doyle missed the plate, as he w busy taking Murphy's throw and probably took it for granted that Doy had really touched the plate. None the Athletics made the appeal and I was about to move away, McGraw, passing from the third base coacher box to the players' bench, said me:

"'Did you see it, Bill?'

"'I certainly did,' I said.

M'GRAW ADMITS IT.

"'What would you have done abo it, if they had appealed?' McGra asked, and I replied that if the cla had been made that Doyle did n touch the plate, I would have give my decision as I saw it, but you s what a 'mess' I would have got myself into.

"'Well, I would have protected yo

PURPLE AND GOLDS SHOWING UP WELL FOR BATTLE

Big Game With Dinuba Hi Comes Off Saturday; Boys Confident.

With only two more practice nights remaining before the gridiron fray at Dinuba Saturday, the Purple and Gold rugby squad tore up the turf even more fiercely than usual yesterday afternoon. The boys have gained a good working knowledge of the game, so Coach Drew will devote all his time today and tomorrow to the task of polishing up the rough edges, which are already fast disappearing.

The presence of "Buck" McAndrews on the campus made it possible to separate the back field men from the scrum, and each division was given thorough individual instruction before the team was lined up for organized practice.

McDowell, Collins, and McNulty are three veteran players who are taking a sure and steady grip on the game this year. Collins will be used in the back field, while McNulty and McDowell will probably play in the scrum.

From the long list of new recruits, Chandler, Rennie, Everts, and Crawford may be mentioned as a few who are showing a great deal of enviable grit and ability.

Drew stated yesterday that he and Captain Collins will not announce the line of attack they will send into action Saturday, before Friday evening. Naturally, there has been some difficulty in finding out the merits of each individual player, and Drew wishes to take advantage of all the time allowed him for observation.

Baum, a local sporting writer, would be elected president of the league at the November meeting of the directors. Ewing said that a majority of the directors already had decided upon Baum, who, it is understood, will devote his entire time in future to the affairs of the league. Judge Graham tendered his resignation as president of the league some da, s ago.

UMPIRE KLEM SAYS GIANTS DIDN'T WIN

McGraw replied as he walked away.

"I would have declared Doyle out if the appeal had been made, but none was made."

In his reference to a "mess" Klem meant that if he had entertained the appeal, the New York players and their partisans would have made a tremendous protest against the decision.

When Thomas L. Lynch, president of the National League, was told of the incident this evening, he said that so long as no appeal was made, the game will stand as a victory for New York.

P. S.—All challenges to be addressed to me personally.

The American Colony ball club opened the fall season last Saturday with a defeat at the hands of Easton, 8 to 6. The game was close and exciting from start to finish. The American Colony boys led all the way until the ninth inning, when a timely batting rally by Easton sent three runs across and annexed the laurels. Lefty Larsen was knocked off the slab in the first round and was replaced by Orr. Anderson caught for Easton. Crawford and Rannage formed the losing battery. Hansen umpired. The Americans challenge Oleander, Perrin or Pomona grammar schools.

DUFFY LEWIS TO BE MARRIED; IS RECONCILED WITH FIANCEE

BOSTON, Oct. 25—George E. (Duffy) Lewis, left fielder of the Boston Red Sox, and Miss Eleanore Ruth Keene have settled all differences and are to be married within two weeks. This announcement was made today by Miss Keene's friends. Miss Keene has a letter from Lewis telling her to come to his home at Oakland at once, where they will be married. She started today for California.

The sudden breaking off of their marriage plans and the equally sudden reconciliation was a big surprise to their friends. The wedding was to have taken place October 9th at Woburn, and the Rev. John J. Harkins, a friend of the bridegroom, was to have officiated.

CHARLEY GRAHAM IS NOW OWNER OF SENATORS FOR NEXT YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25—Charles Graha, of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League became chief stockholder of that club today by the purchase of the interest of John I. Taylor of the Boston American club. The deal was completed here. Graham now has 16,000 of the 24,000 shares of the company.

SPEAKER MAY BE THE NEXT RED SOX MANAGER

Tris Speaker may be the next manager of the Boston American League baseball team.

Hardly had the report of the proposed sale been made before the talk of the probable successor to Pat Donovan was started, and the impression is that it will be Speaker who will be named as pilot.

Speaker is now captain, and since coming to Boston it has been evident to the fans that the wonderful center fielder is the biggest sort of a factor in directing the team. Speaker's ability as a player cannot be questioned and from the experience he has gained as field leader, he should fit in nicely.

It will be recalled that during the past two years McAleer has picked Speaker for his all-star team, and, in addition, the pair are unusually friendly both on and off the field.

No decision will be reached until other matter are arranged, but, as matters stand, it looks as if Speaker has the call for the job as manager of the Sox.

BAILEY AFFIRMS INTENTION TO QUIT PUBLIC LIFE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Emphatically denying reports that he had changed his mind about retiring to private life, Senator Jos. W. Bailey of Texas in an interview here stated that his decision to leave the senate at the expiration of his present term in 1913 was irrevocable.

VIC HANSON LEAVES RING FOR GOOD, IS REPORT

COALINGA, Oct. 25.—The passing of Victor Hanson, the Pride of Coalinga, from the ring will be received by the majority of the fight fans of the oil fields of the state with regret. Hanson is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and conducted every one of his twenty ring engagements as such, both to his opponents and to the fans who gathered at the ringside to witness the contests. Hanson is "square" and on this, together with the fact that he realizes that he does not possess the finishing "punch" that would make him a champion, hange the real cause of his retirement from the roped arena.

The morning following his encounter with Joe Thomas, Hanson said to the writer that he had quit the fight game for good. "In my fight of last night I rained blow after blow upon Thomas' countenance, but they all lacked the steam when they landed that I started them with. I am not hurt and was not hurt in the fight, except in one of the early rounds when I was a bit groggy, and I could have easily stayed the twenty rounds had I not gone blind in the eleventh and twelfth rounds. Thomas is a clever fellow with his fists and also with his elbow and to the latter I lay the most damage to the optic, but I guess it's all in the game."

"Hanson has made a remarkable record in the ring. He has been a principal in twenty battles and has lost but two, those reverses going to the two best men in the middleweight division. Klaus, who gave Hanson his first whipping, is conceded by nearly every sporting editor in the east and west to be the real candidate for the Ketchell crown; and Thomas is the only ex-champion of the division still following the game. The latter's chances to get back his lost title are practically out of the question, as it was demonstrated in his bout with Hanson that he cannot make 162 pounds and if he ever meets Klaus for the belt he will have to make 158 and in that case his condition will be greatly weakened and he will stand no show against the Pittsburg beat-cat.

Hanson demonstrated time and time again that he could beat any of the second and third raters, putting away on different occasions men with many times more experience than he possessed. His ambition naturally reached out for the championship and he went after it, perhaps too soon, but at least he made an attempt and blasted "the yellow streak" theory that had been thrown at him from many sides.

In his fight with Joe Thomas, Hanson put up the best battle of his career against a man who would not make his weight. It is the concensus of opinion that there was more fighting done in the thirteen rounds of battle than in any engagement ever boxed in the local arena and that the last round saw more hard fighting than any three of its predecessors. Hanson states that this was positively his last appearance in the roped arena, especially in Coalinga. This will be bad news to the fans here, because Vic has always put up a good fight and no one can deny that he has put up the best contests that have ever been seen here and has drawn the three record breaking audiences. Boxers of Hanson's calibre keep the standard of the fight game up.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE RULES TO BE CHANGED

Meeting of Statte Board of Education Called for November 3rd.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25—Notices were sent out today calling for a meeting of the state board of education at the state capital, Friday, November 3rd. The purpose of the meeting will be to adopt a new language book for the schools and also to modify the rules relative to computing daily attendance in the primary schools under the new state law which does away with the old state school census idea in the apportionment of school moneys. Both questions are apt to cause considerable controversy.

REAFFIRM DISCHARGE OF SANTA FE MECHANICS

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 25—Railroad men here today reiterated their statements of Saturday that the Santa Fe railroad had laid off fifty mechanics, despite the denial of General Manager Wells, made in Los Angeles yesterday.

According to these men, several mechanics also quit of their own accord to accept employment in the Harriman shops in Los Angeles.

Officials of the road here will not deny that a reduction in their force has been made.

BASEBALL GAME PLAYED ON OIL TANK FLOOR AT BAKERSFIELD

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25.—Playing baseball on the floor of a 500,000 barrel oil reservoir tank of the Standard Oil Company is the latest in athletics on the Coast, but it is not an altogether new sight for the Kern river oil fields. There the fans gathered Sunday to witness a game between the Standard or "reservoir" boys and the Kern river office men. The reservoir players won 24 to 7 and are now looking for opponents. The huge walls of the reservoir furnished a grandstand for the spectators.

CALIFORNIA RUGBY TEAM WINS FROM ALL-STARS

British Columbia Fifteen Is Beaten, 21 to 0, in Clean Battle.

BERKELEY, Oct. 25—Clean, hard playing marked today the first game between the All-Star Columbia Rugby fifteen and the University of California varsity, the Northerners meeting defeat by the score of 21 to 0. The game was fast and interesting all the way, but the college men showed their greatest speed in the last half when they played in the most brilliant form they have displayed this year.

The British Columbians showed great individual knowledge of the game, but were lacking in teamwork, as this was first firm game as a team. In the loose play and dribbling rushes they showed up to advantage, but the dashing defensive play of the Californians broke up every attempt at passing rushes. The varsity backs indulged in a great deal of fumbling between the spectacular passin grallies which repeatedly swept the ball down the field for a score.

The teams will meet again next Saturday, and the following week will see two games between the British Columbia players and Stanford varsity.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Mrs. M. D.: For short, thin hair there is nothing better to promote a healthy, vigorous growth than a good quinine tonic. But do not trust to any prepared tonic that may have been made so long as to have lost its strength. Get from any drug store an ounce of quinzoin and a half pint alcohol; mix together, then add a half pint cold water. Massage this tonic into your scalp about twice a week; it will cause dandruff and scalp irritation to disappear as if by magic, and you will soon notice your hair getting longer, thicker and beautifully lustrous. This splendid tonic is a positive remedy for falling hair.

Miss R.: You will find the following lotion a splendid skin-whitener and complexion beautifier: Dissolve four ounces of spurmax in a half pint hot water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This not only takes the place of a face powder, but you will find it far better in every respect. It does not rub off or show like powder, and benefits the skin. Apply this lotion to the face, rubbing gently until dry. It will take away that shiny, muddy, rough look and leave your skin smooth and fresh-looking. This inexpensive lotion is now used largely by women of refinement, and is unequaled for removing freckles, tan and skin pimples.

M. M.: Do not use dry shampoo powder under any circumstances. Authorities on hair culture almost invariably condemn such mixtures, as they simply clog up the pores in the scalp and cause dandruff and other scalp troubles. When your hair needs washing, use for your shampoo a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water. This makes a rich lather that cleanses perfectly, and will leave your hair brighter, cleaner and fluffier than ever before. This shampoo rinses easily, dries quickly, and positively will not make the hair streaky and brittle like soap does. If you will use this shampoo once, I am sure you will be so pleased that you will never care to try any other.

W. E. S.: To make your eyes clear, bright, and show the sparkle of health, dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye twice daily. This soothing tonic is very strengthening to weak, tired, inflamed eyes and will make your eyes clear and beautiful. For sore, granulated lids it is splendid, and greatly helps those who wear glasses.

Mrs. D. J.: You need a good, strengthening tonic and liver regulator, to purify your blood and build up your health. Take before each meal a tablespoonful of the following: Dissolve a half cup sugar and one ounce kardene in a half pint alcohol, then add water to make a full quart. This home-made tonic will clear up a sallow, pimply complexion quickly, and as a liver regulator it is simply splendid. It makes the best home medicine imaginable, and does wonders in restoring lost appetite, energy and general good health.

Veta S.: To clear your complexion and make it smooth, soft and satiny, use the following cream-jelly: Mix together one ounce of almozoin, two teaspoonfuls glycerine and a half pint cold water. Stir and let stand a few hours before using. This greaseless complexion jelly is the finest thing you can get for reducing those large pores below your eyes and clearing up your complexion. It removes all pore-dirt, blackheads, freckles and skin pimples and when used as a massage cream fills out hollow cheeks and removes wrinkles readily.

Ella T.: Really, you have no just cause to worry on account of those superfluous hairs, because with a little delatone and water you can make a paste, which applied to the offensive hairs and let two or three minutes, then rubbed off, will remove every trace of hair. Get an ounce of delatone and use as I suggest, washing the skin after removing the delatone, and you will be delighted with the results. Delatone costs a dollar an ounce, but is worth every cent, as it is unfailing.

Mae W.: I do not approve of dieting and exercising for fat reduction. The simplest and best way is to get four ounces of parnotis from any drug store and dissolve it in a pint and a half of hot water. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and to your great satisfaction you will soon notice your fat disappearing. This harmless remedy will not leave your skin wrinkled and flabby, and has the endorsement of thousands who have tried it.

WHY JIMMY VALENTINE WORKS WITH A HANDKERCHIEF OVER HIS EYES

Adalgisa Giana, soprano, with the Lambardi Opera Company, coming to the Barton next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The expert advice and testimony of a professional bank robber is responsible for one of the most important changes in the "business" intrusted to H. B. Warner, the star in "Alias Jimmy Valentine." The bank robber occupied a seat in the gallery of the Studebaker Theater, Chicago, when the play was given its first presentation. When the scene where Valentine "feels out" the combination of the safe was reached, naturally, the professional crook was alert and on the lookout for flaws in the staging.

According to an anonymous letter received by the manager of the company next day, he found them. He related in his letter that he would have Mr. Warner feel out the combination with his left hand instead of his right, as the skin is always thickest on the fingers of the right hand and the nerves are less sensitive to outside impulses. His greatest objection was in the matter of pulling down the blinds in the vault scene. He said that if the blinds were pulled down people from the outside might observe a change from the usual order of things and that in order to satisfy his desire to work in the dark in order to better "feel" the combination, Mr. Warner should cover his eyes with a handkerchief and let the window curtains alone.

After the receipt of the crook's letter the stage manager acted on his suggestions and visitors to the Barton Opera House where "Alias Jimmy Valentine" is due next Monday evening may see Mr. Warner "feel out" the combination with his left hand, and a heavy handkerchief across his eyes for the final big scene of the play. The seat sale for this sensational dramatic event opened yesterday morning.

Lambardi Opera Company

Manager Barton evidently possesses a keen insight into the musical instincts of his patrons. This is evidenced by the many inquiries for seats to the coming performances of the Lambardi Grand Opera Company, next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, October 31st and November 1st. Out of the immense repertoire of this organization, Mr. Barton wisely selected what is, perhaps, the most popular of the great modern works, Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," and by way of bringing before local theater patrons the greatest number of vocal stars, he chose the familiar double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana and Pagliacci."

All who are familiar with either of these productions know well the tonal beauties contained in the scores—the marvelous soul-stirring strains of Puccini's master-work: the quaint, sad singing of the mandarins as they pass in crowds below the waiting window of Cho Cho San and, by direct contrast, the happy, laughing drinking song in "Cavalleria." From a solo standpoint, the famous prologue, in "Pagliacci" perhaps takes rank with any ever inspired in the heart of a great composer. As rendered by Antola, the foremost baritone of the company, it remains ever as a delight.

The presentation of "Pagliacci" will bring to notice also Mme. Adalgisa Giana, one of the most beautiful and talented members of the Lambardi company.

"Madame Butterfly" will be the opening opera, and "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I'Pagliacci" on Wednesday evening. The seat sale opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

If you will write to The Realty Syndicate of Oakland you will find that you can invest money with them and get 6% for it, with a greater degree of safety and under a much more satisfactory arrangement than you ever imagined was at your disposal.

The Realty Syndicate issue a type of security called "Syndicate Sixes," which can be purchased in any quantity from $100 up, to run for any length of time desired, from six months to ten years.

These certificates are backed by the total assets of the corporation, valued at over twenty million dollars, and which consist chiefly of real estate in Oakland.

There are about three million dollars worth of certificates issued, which gives protecting assets of a ratio of about 6 to 1.

The Realty Syndicate has been issuing "Syndicate Sixes" for 16 years, and during this period over 7,000 people who from time to time have invested in them, have found them to be thoroughly satisfactory in every particular.

Interest is paid by check mailed promptly on the day due, and the principal is tendered for payment just as promptly at the expiration of the certificate.

Our investors find "Syndicate Sixes" to be more satisfactory than mortgages, because they are handled on a business basis and the payment of interest and principal does not depend upon the health or good fortune or energy of any one person or upon the preservation and value of any one piece of property.

Banks are good for the accumulation of money and for checking accounts, but after accumulating a surplus you should invest it in some good 6% proposition.

An investigation will prove to you that "Syndicate Sixes" are about what you have been looking for, because you absolutely control the amount and length of time of your own investment.

A request upon a postal will bring you full information.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The securities market remained today in suspended animation. Prices were virtually on the dead level. The only noticeable change was that the market lost the firm tone that had characterized it recently.

The present stagnation of the market is illustrated by the fact that Union Pacific, one of the speculative leaders, closed last Saturday, Monday and Tuesday at the same price and ended today's session only a small fraction above it.

Republic Steel showed great weakness the common yielding two and the preferred four points. Heaviness of these stocks was attributed to poor trade prospects.

Among the railroad stocks Canadian Pacific was strongest. The rise was in response to improvements in earnings. Atchison's September statement showed a falling off of more than $160,000 in net earnings, the larger part of which was due to heavier operating expenses.

Prices of bonds were well sustained. Total sales par value, $2,596,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GREEN CORN LEAVES THE LOCAL MARKET

Green corn has been taken off the local market as the season is about over. Savoy cabbage arrived yesterday and the opening price is quoted at 15 cents per pound. Other vegetables and fruits remain steady. Creamery butter is still 80 cents for a two-pound roll and eggs are 40 cents per dozen.

FALLS THREE STORIES ON HIS HEAD; UNHURT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Although he was knocked off the top of a three story building by an electrical shock, John A. Boyer, a sheet metal worker, suffered no broken bones and is expected by physicians attending him today to recover.

A high tension wire came into contact with the metal upon which Boyer was at work and the shock knocked him from the top of the building and caused him to turn a complete somersault before striking head foremost upon the concrete sidewalk below. His only injuries were severe electrical burns.

The cheapest advertising medium in the County. If you believe in advertising come and see us. For further information call on or address the editor.

We are in receipt of a newspaper from the city, which is marked with a blue pensil off the edittoriel page around a item inserted into a collum of stuff right next to the edittoriels which we think is supposed to be funny. This item is taken right out of a Bingville Bugle for Oct. 1th and it is about some of our very best peeple in town, Miss Molly Tucker to be exackt.

The item was wrote about Miss Molly Tucker when she was confined to her palashial residence through sickness brought on by a soft corn on her little toe with which she was suffering torchures, but notwithstanding the sufferings of a fellow creachure, the editer of this so-called funny collumn has evidently thought that he saw something funny about this item and has taken and copied it and put it into his collumn and expects his readers to laff over the misforchunes of somebody else.

Now what we would like to know is what there was funny about that item. The item said "Miss Molly Tucker is suffering torchures from a corn on her littel toe. It is a soft corn and don't give Miss Molly a minute's rest whether she is sitting on a chair or standing up. Hard corns is bad enough, but you can always diminish them with the careful use of a razzor. Soft corns however seem to defy all treatment. We hope this soft corn will grow into a hard corn."

Did this editer think that this item was funny because Miss Molly was suffering from a soft corn, or did he think it was funny because we hoped the soft corn would grow into a hard corn? We have given this matter considderable thought, and we cannot see what there is funny about it at all. We cannot see how this city editer can get paid any money for writing this collumn of stuff if it is supposed to be funny. We read it over very carefully, and brought all our editoriel judgement to bear on it, and we think that this so-called funny collumn in the city paper is about as funny as a dying man.

If this editer would look our paper over sharply, he might find something about as deep as anything he has been putting in his collum for some time past. In fact that same item that he copied is a much better written artickle than anything he ever put in his collumn. There is nothing original about his collumn, something he has hashed up from other papers which support editers with brains. Let him look our paper over very sharply, as there might be something very witty in it, but if there was he probably would not understand it.

Editers of city papers are too fresh. Subscribe for the Bugle, our job dep't is unequalled in this end of the Co. Also personal news which includes gossip as well as fackts.

BILL VERY SCAIRT

Bill Hepburn, our artistick blacksmith, got a turrible scair last Saterdy ev'g which he will remember until his dying day and even longer, as he thought something was happening to him which wasn't, but which if it was would of been as turrible as he thought it was. Bill went to the Co. seat for the purpose of getting a littel relacksashion at the rate of 1 dol. per gal. of relacksashion. He had 2 drinks, and then purchased 1 qt. of relacksashion for a quar. dol., and started back for Bingville intending to consume same along the road and arrive home pleasantly inecbriated. The consuming was done according to his plans, but he did not seem to be able to devellop the warm glow which ushually comes to him during the process of consuming the qt. He become scairt and consumed the entire qt. quickly, and still the glow was lacking. He arrived home running but sober, and at oncet took to his bed and requested Mrs. Hepburn to send for Doc Livermore as he was about to pass into the great beyond. Mrs. Hepburn, seeing that Bill was sober, was turrible alarmed, and run quick for Doc Livermore. When Doc Livermore arrived, Bill told him that he had drunk over a qt. of whiskey without feeling a mite of effeckt from it. Doc thought something seerious was the matter, and asked to be showed the bottel out of which he had drunk the whiskey. This bottel was still in Bill's hip pocket, so Doc Livermore took it and smelt it, and then told Bill that what he thought was whiskey wan't nothing but flat ginger ale which the bar keeper must of give him for a joke. When Bill heard this, he ariz from his bed and passed forth into the night bound for the Co. seat. He returned home at 1 a. m. Sundy morning very intocksicated, and it was subsekwently learnt that he had give the bar keeper over to the Co. seat 2 black eyes.

Mistook for Mink

The first gunning acksident for the yr. took place last Saterdy afternoon when Wes Woodruff, our expert hunter and trapper, went out into the woods up back of Gootchie for the purpose of hunting or trapping, taking along his trusty muzzle-loader shotgun and mistook littel Tommy Barker, son of the well known citizen of this place, Bige Barker, for a mink and delivered a charge of No. 6 shot into Tommy's left leg at long range, no damadge being did to Tommy beyond giving him a offal start. The abillity of Wes Woodruff as a expert hunter and trapper is too well known to be recounted here. He was wandering through the woods when he see a brown thing moving. He said to himself that there is a mink, and the next minnit he up and let the brown thing have his left barrel. Cries rose upon the air, and Wes run up and discovvered that he had shot Tommy. Somebody always gets mistook by Wes during the course of the yr., but generally he mistakes peeple for a deer or a fox. This is the first time that Wes has ever mistook a human man for a mink. It seems to us that a mink is a pretty small critter to mistake a human person for. However peeple ought to keep outen the way of a expert hunter and trapper when he is out on business. Littel Tommy is quite recovvered at this writing.

Miss Lulu Andrews, daughter of Deacon Andrews, has been practising hard at her singing this wk., as she will substitute in the choir next Sunday in place of Miss Phoebe Hilderbrand, our fashionabble dressmaker. Her voice has disturbed the naybors considderabbly, but they think she will be able to reach sevveral notes higher next Sundy than ever before. Lulu's voice would be good if she could be successful in her attempts to reach the high notes.

Miss Samanthy Deevers has not been on the sick list this wk., as she has been putting up preserves. She says she has felt wretched while doing same, however, and will be forced to take to her bed next wk.

After that the Widow Hinckley lammed Bud 2 or 3 good ones for eating her sented soap.

Jed Peters, our intelligent school teacher, was called on by a dellygation of our most prominent and well-known citizens tother day and asked to refrain from telling fairy tales to the school children. Jed told the children tother day that the light from some stuff called radium would travel 170,000 miles a second. The dellygation told Jed he would have to quit telling young children such lies as that, and Jed said it wasn't a lie. The dellygation said Jed was a liar, and Jed called 'em dum fools. Cy Hoskins, who was chairman of the dellygation, wanted to know how in tarnashion anything could go as fast as that, and told Jed to shet up making a fool of hisself. Jed said he wouldn't tell it again, but he said he was right just the same. We doubt it.

For Sail

I have made a careful saving of all the hair which I have cut offen peeple in the last 1 or 2 yrs., including head hair and beard hair, and I am now prepared to sell this hair by weight or by measure. I will sell you as low as a peck of hair, if you want that littel. I have sepperated the coarse hair from the silky hair, and that will make a difference in price. Soft silky hair like that offen Dan Henderson's head and beard, which are allowed to grow from one year's end to another, will cost you more than hair like that offen Cy Hoskinses head which is stiff and hard like nails. All of this hair is great to stuff pillers and mattresses with, though, and it is certainly great to have something stuffed with hair when you know the hair is from your friends, and is O. K. See me for hair. You can't beat my rates.

ESPEE STRIKERS MAY GET SYSTEM FEDERATION SPEAKERS HERE

Carmen Hope to Enlist Moral and Financial Support of People.

Two Car Cleaners Desert; Places Filled; Box Cars Due Today.

According to a statement issued yesterday by leaders of the striking Southern Pacific carmen, the system federation will send speakers through the state for the purpose of appealing to the people for their support. This action will be taken if the present strike continues for another month. The union men believe these speakers will be able to enlist the moral and financial support of a great many people.

There was little or no change in the strike situation locally. Bulletins continued to arrive through the mail from the head officials of the system federation. All of these assert the rolling stock of the Harriman lines is badly crippled and the Southern Pacific is shy on experienced men. It was reported at union headquarters that two more Mexican car cleaners had deserted in sympathy with the striking carmen.

Assistant Superintendent Dodds declared last night that the vacancies had been filled a few hours after the desertions and he could get all the Mexican car cleaners needed in the local yards. Dodds asserted that the first train of empty box cars from the Rock Island, Illinois Central and Milwaukee lines will arrive here at an early hour this morning. The cars are coming from Los Angeles to relieve the shortage said to be due to the heavy freight shipments from valley packing houses. About 200 cars are coming to valley points.

STOPS YOUR HAIR FALLING OUT AND DISSOLVES DANDRUFF AT ONCE

Your Hair Appears Soft, Lustrous, Fluffy and Abundant After Using a Little Danderine.

What causes Dandruff, itchy scalp and falling hair? Who cares—so long as Danderine overcomes this—and it does, and quickly, too—it does more, it grows hair, and we can prove it.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Assurance Given Road Will Be Built If This Is Secured.

Acting upon information furnished them to the effect that if $100,000 is secured in this city, capital has been assured to build the proposed railroad from Fresno to Monterey, the committee appointed by Wylie M. Giffen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to investigate into the merits of the road and suggest a plan for financing, recommended last night that this money be raised.

Discussion over the the report lasted through two long meetings, and every phase of the situation was gone into by the members of the committee.

The committee was informed that positive assurance had been received that if $100,000 is raised in this city, money will be furnished to build the road. Of this amount, $50,000 is to be furnished now, to complete the making of maps and getting the road into shape to build. When the road is completed the builders ask a bonus of another $50,000.

If this money can be secured, the builders will not ask anything further of the people of this city, but will go ahead and build to Monterey. When the road is completed it will be turned over to the Fresno, Coalinga and Monterey Railroad Company to operate.

The parties building will sell any bonds or stock that they may wish to, provided the people of Fresno and vicinity will purchase, but this will not have anything to do with the $100,000 proposition. The capital which has been interested, believes that if the $100,000 is raised it will have no trouble in selling any stock or bonds it may see fit, here, although the building of the road is not contingent upon the sale of any of this in Fresno or any other place.

The definite assurance has been given that if the $100,000 is secured, the road will be built, irrespective of any bond or stock selling that may take place.

In the recommendation of this plan for financing the road, it is believed the committee has practically ended its labors, and upon the strength of the recommendation efforts will be made to secure the money. The members of the committee are F. M. Hill, chairman; W. B. Holland, W. A. Sutherland, Louis Einstein and John W. Short. The meeting last night was held in the office of Cartwright and Cashin.

FREIGHT RATE IS CAUSE OF PROTEST

Wm. R. Wheeler Calls the Commission's Attention to Posted Rate.

William R. Wheeler, manager of the traffic board of the Merchants' Association of San Francisco, has filed a protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the class rates proposed by the railroads from Eastern defined territory to Western terminals.

The commission, recently fixed the first class freight rate from Chicago to Reno at $2.90, and the rate from New York to Reno at $3.50, a difference of 60 cents for the 1000 mile haul from New York to Chicago. But the railroads have recently announced a class freight rate of $3.40 from Chicago to Sacramento; making a difference of 50 cents for the 154 mile haul from Reno to Sacramento; while at the same time they announce a rate from New York to Sacramento of $3.70, a difference of but 30 cents for the 1000 miles between New York and Chicago.

The point against which the protest is made is that the railroads have estimated the 1000 mile haul in the East at 30 cents and the 154 mile haul in the West at 50 cents.

"While there is no great quantity of freight moved under this rate," Wheeler said, "the principle is important. If we were to allow such an injustice to the West to go without notice it might be used as a precedent for the assumption that there were conditions here which would justify such a difference in charges. If it is worth only 30 cents to transport freight 1000 miles between New York and Chicago in this rate, it cannot be worth 50 cents to haul it the 154 miles between Reno and Sacramento."

The protest has been mailed to the commission at Washington. The rate protested was to go into effect on November 1st.

HOW DO YOU FEEL AFTER BREAKFAST?

Sort of bloated? Big, as if you had eaten too much? That's from gas in your stomach. If it were only the discomfort gas produces. It wouldn't be so bad, but it's the damage gas does by distending your stomach, which in turn presses against your lungs, liver, heart and kidneys.

It takes just about one week to positively and permanently relieve this with Baalmann's Gas-Tablets. Take two before and two after meals, and at the end of one week you will have no more gas, no more difficult breathing, no more belching, no more bloating, and, best of all, your whole health will improve, and enjoy every morsel of food you take without fear of gas.

And all this you can obtain with one 50-cent bottle of Baalmann's Gas-Tablets.

These peculiar tablets are sold for 50c a bottle by nearly every druggist. If not in stock, tell him to get them for you from his wholesaler, or send 50c in silver, stamps or money order to Hahnemann Pharmacy, 324 Sutter St., San Francisco, Calif.

PRETTY PARROT NIPS WART OFF POLICEMAN CHAS. M'KEE'S HEAD

Was Teaching "Polly" to Master the English Language.

A great service was rendered Patrolman Charles McKee yesterday morning when a parrot, which by the way is the pride of peace officer's heart, gracefully and as clean as a surgeon's knife could have out, nipped a wart off the head of the custodian of the peace. The story leaked out on the officer yesterday when he reported for duty with a small piece of court plaster on the top of his head. The pretty talking bird is the only pet that the peace officer has about his domicle on O street.

Every day McKee teaches the bird some new word and the member of the feathered tribe is fastly becoming a master of the English language. The officer and the parrot are great friends and yesterday morning while talking to the bird McKee attempted to whisper in its ear. The officer had his head close to the cage and without warning the parrot poked his little head through the bars and nipped the wart off McKee's head. The peace officers, who recollect the wart, say that it looked like a kernel of corn and that the parrot might have mistaken it for that. McKee denies this.

But anyway every one is satisfied and the policeman especially as he had long been contemplating having the wart removed but dreaded the ordeal. The wart was located where McKee parts his hair and every time he attempted to run a comb through his golden locks the comb would catch on the wart and cause him much annoyance. Whether the officer in his spare hours will act as tutor for Mr. Parrot is a matter yet to be settled.

WIREMEN'S UNION VOTES TO DEFEND EDITOR LAMOREUX

Resolution Condemns Carpenters for Alleged Hasty Action.

Prediction Made That Labor News Will Be Whitewashed By Council.

Members of the local Wiremen's Union last night defended F. P. Lamoreux, editor of the Labor News, and condemned the Carpenters' Union for its action in censuring the editorial which appeared in the official organ Saturday. The wiremen passed a resolution in which the Carpenters' Union was condemned for discontinuing its subscription to the Labor News and ordering Editor Lamoreux to remove his desk from Union Hall.

In presenting the resolution, one of the members asserted that the carpenters were too hasty in taking action against Editor Lamoreux as the defendant should have been given a hearing.

The controversy will be threshed out tomorrow night at the weekly session of the Labor Council. The paper in which the outrageous editorial appeared is the official organ of the Labor Council and it was predicted last night by officials of this body that Editor Lamoreux and his Labor News would be "white-washed" after the accused has explained that the English language and "gentleman friend" in black type mean nothing. To date, the Carpenters' Union is the only labor body to take official action against Lamoreux.

However, it is believed that the Cooks and Waiters' Union will follow the example set by the carpenters and the Building Trades Council will aprove of the action taken by the carpenters. The Carpenters' Union, which has a membership of over 300, the largest in the city, holds a lease on Union Hall and at its meeting Tuesday night voted to request Editor Lamoreux to remove his desk. However, the desk still remains at its old place and Lamoreux has not been officially requested to vacate.

MISCREANT TURNS IN FALSE FIRE ALARMS

Firemen and Police Officers Investigate Case; Fail to Find Culprit.

Two false alarms of fire were turned into fire headquarters last night shortly before 10 o'clock, within ten minutes of each other. Firemen and police officers investigated both cases, but were unable to find any clues that would lead to the identity and apprehension of the miscreant. Patrolmen were stationed near the fire alarm boxes on the outskirts of the city, but up to midnight no one had put in an appearance near the boxes.

The first alarm was turned in from box 32 at the corner of H and Ventura streets. No sooner had the fire apparatus reached the stop than another alarm was turned in from box 27, at the corner of P and Ventura streets. The firemen answered that call, but failed to find any signs of a fire. It is presumed that some one pulled the fire box at the corner of Ventura and H streets and then walked up Ventura street to P, where the other alarm was sent in.

New and Commanding Styles in Finely Tailored Suits

The finer the tailor the more the garment—but in our syndicate of 200 stores often ten to twenty garments of a style are bought by each store, and this tremendous order places us in a position to sell at what other dealers often are obliged to pay for them.

RIPLEY OF SANTA FE COMING HERE NOV. 1

Two Railroad Presidents May Meet in Fresno, as Dates Conflict.

Word was received here yesterday by Santa Fe officials that E. P. Ripley president of the road, will probably pay a visit to Fresno about November 1. President Ripley is now on his way to the Pacific coast from his headquarters in Chicago. He is coming in a special train and is taking his time along the route. For this reason, Commercial Agent Hobart believes the head official will spend several hours in Fresno.

The date of arrival is near the time set for the appearance here of President Sproule and Vice-President McCormick of the Southern Pacific. These officials are now enroute to Portland.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world, the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc, and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that sage and sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.
